Dedication Set For Saugerties Masonic Temple

The new Masonic Temple of Ulster Lodge 193, Russell Street, Saugerties, will be dedicated Saturday, April 1, at 4 p. m., according to Charles W. Steele, master. Dedication will be under the direction of Dr. Charles F. Gosnell, of Suffern, deputy grand master. The cornerstone was laid by the present State Masonic Grand Master, Frank C. Staples, Floral Park, L. I.

Others Assisting
Dr. Gosnell will have the Masonic War veterans, the grand secretary, the grand treasurer, grand stewards and a number of district deputy grand masters assist him in the dedication.

The dedication will be for Masons only, but immediately following the ceremonies, families and friends are invited to visit the temple. At 7 p. m. there will be a dinner-dance at the Flamingo Restaurant according to H. F. Emerick, Saugerties secretary of the lodge, from whom tickets may be obtained.

Hosts at Dinner
Hosts of the evening will be besides the master, Clifford W. Elliott, Woodstock, senior wardens; Roger E. Meyer, junior wardens; Horace F. Emerick, secretary, both of Saugerties. The District Deputy Grand Master of Greene-Ulster County, Frank E. Ray, of Ellenville will introduce the deputy grand master.

Delay Start On Gardens' Foundation

Foundation work on downtown's Rondout Gardens 135-unit housing project, due to start late this month, has been delayed because of weather, a spokesman for the Robie Construction Corp., of Elmsford, Westchester County, general contractor, said today.

Most of the grading, however, has been completed on the first acreage acquired by the Kingston Housing Authority, but that too has been stopped because of weather.

The development will involve construction of 20 separate sections and first building of upper structure could be in progress in May if the contractor is able to stay close to the work schedule given the KHA. Foundation

List Year Delay on Nursing

Ulster County Community College has decided to defer offering its Associate Degree Nursing Program until the 1968-69 academic year, Dr. Irmgard Karle, the college's Dean of Faculty, said today.

"We decided to defer starting this program until 1968," Dean Karle said, "so we could have additional time to develop a well-rounded program that would be of the very highest quality."

Long, Careful Study
The Dean said college officials reached the decision only after a long and careful examination of the many requirements that must be met to develop a Nursing Program of top notch quality.

The Associate Degree Nursing Program was approved only two months ago by the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York.

The College sought State University approval to set up the Nursing Program shortly after Benedictine Hospital in Kingston made known plans to close its three-year nursing program when the present freshman class graduates in 1969.

Two-Year Program
The College's Nursing Program is two years in length and deferring the program for a year will not alter the annual flow of nursing graduates.

"Extensive preparation is needed to set up a high quality nursing program," Dean Karle said. "Quality is what we're after and we decided we might have to sacrifice some of this quality if we rushed the program through for this year."

Dean Karle said college officials are at work to develop a high quality curriculum that will give nursing students an understanding and appreciation of the role of nursing in today's society. It also will be designed to provide graduates with sufficient basic knowledge and skill to enable them to provide efficient patient care, to achieve self-support and to satisfactorily fill the personality satisfying positions now open in the field of nursing.

"We want to take sufficient time to develop this program," said Dean Karle, "so it will fully uphold the standards of nursing education as set forth by the New York State Department of Education, the National League of Nursing and other appropriate professional bodies."

Well-Rounded Program
Dean Karle said college officials want to set up a well-rounded nursing program that will afford various types of nursing experiences. They will include caring for all age groups from infancy to old age in medical, surgical, obstetrical and psychiatric situations in the hospital and at home. In addition, UCCS nursing students will observe the health resources of industry and the community.

The college, the Dean said, plans to work closely with Benedictine Hospital in Kingston.

211 Yanks, 2,675 Reds War Tolls Hit Record Highs

SAIGON (AP) — The ever-mounting cost of the Vietnam war was underscored today by the announcement of record American and Communist casualties last week while both sides increased in total strength.

Communist mortar barrages accounted for much of the rising U.S. casualties, and more of these were reported Wednesday and today in two sensitive war spots.

One of 18 Sweeps
Red mortar shells rained down on U.S. positions just below the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam and along the Cambodian border where the biggest U.S. jungle sweep of the war is under way.

The U.S. Command also disclosed that 18 such ground sweeps are now being conducted, an indication that a high level of casualties can be expected to continue.

The U.S. Command said that 2,675 Communist soldiers were killed last week while 211 Americans were killed and 1,874 were wounded.

At the same time, U.S. troop strength in the country grew to 427,000 men, while U.S. intelligence estimated Communist strength at 286,000 men, increases of 4,000 on each side. The Communists increased their numbers despite the loss of 19,500 dead — the equivalent of eight full regiments — since the first of the year.

The U.S. Command drew attention to the Red mortar attacks as "a tactic the enemy is favoring increasingly." An official summary said "this trend shows both increasing incidents and intensity."

Marines Catch Heaviest

U.S. Marines manning the exposed artillery position at Gio Linh, just south of the demilitarized zone, caught the heaviest barrage today. Firing from within the zone, Red gunners dropped 75 rounds on the Marines in a 45-minute barrage. Despite their deep and heavily sandbagged entrenchments, 13 Marines were wounded.

Two other Americans were killed and 31 were wounded in other barrages that fell on the troops conducting Operation Junction City near the Cambodian frontier northwest of Saigon. This operation saw one of the sharpest battles of the war earlier this week and has become one of the deadliest in the war. U.S. troops have killed 1,772 Communists since it began Feb. 22.

Plans Builder Mart in Ulster

BY WALTER S. CLARK JR.
Freeman Staff Reporter

A 71-year-old lumber and building materials company with 55 stores in New York and New England will soon add to the industries in this area, The Freeman learned today.

Grossman's of Braintree, Mass., will extend its chain of building materials supermarkets into Ulster County, where it has acquired a building and land on Route 9W and Albany Avenue Extension at the railroad overpass north of the Kingston city line.

May Opening Planned

Everett Grossman, vice president in charge of engineering, today told The Freeman, the company has purchased from Raymond H. Coles a structure about to be vacated by Railway Express. The property is part of the farm formerly owned by James Kiersted.

A May opening is planned for the outlet which will cater to both home owners and contractors in Ulster County and surrounding areas. A reply to a letter of inquiry recently sent to the Braintree firm by this Freeman reporter seeking information, about a recent real estate transaction, outlined in detail facts about Grossman's. Local people play a part in staffing all stores of the company, and applications for employment in the Ulster store may be sent to Grossman's personnel Department at company headquarters in Braintree.

To Double Size

The single story building in the Town of Ulster, Grossman said, will be completely remodeled and doubled in size, by an addition, to fulfill its new role as a one stop, self service shopping center for lumber, plywood, millwork, insulation, roofing and other building materials.

The self-service shopping center also will deal in heating, plumbing and electrical equipment, kitchen cabinets and built-ins, bathroom ensembles, wood and aluminum doors and windows and many other necessities used in building, remodeling and repairing.

Emphasis will be on Brand Name products such as those that won for Grossman's a national Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year Award.

A separate building on the Ulster property is leased to Dairy Queen Ice Cream Company as a distribution warehouse. Broker for the sale was the Kingston firm of O'Connor and Fox.

An outline of a proposed plan to broaden and equalize the property tax base in Ulster County at a cost estimated near $1 million was presented to the Board of Supervisors Wednesday night at a special meeting requested by the Industrial Development and Tax Base Study Committee of the board.

Present and addressing the board were A. S. Kulis from the American Air Survey, who discussed the preparation of property maps and installation of a microfilm and card system along with the aerial survey, and Jack L. Jacober, vice president of Allied Appraisal Company of Bowling Green, Ohio, who discussed the matter of reappraisal of all properties in the county by his firm.

Bid Submitted

American Air Surveys, Inc., Pittsburgh, Pa., has submitted a bid of $477,795 for their work in preparation of the property maps and setting up a system of reference in the county clerk's office and doing the microfilm work.

Allied Appraisal Company did not submit a firm figure for the reappraisal work but it was stated that the cost of the map survey and appraisal would be in the neighborhood of $900,000, or slightly under $1 million.

After listening to the two speakers, who described in detail their operations under the plan, there was a question period and the board adjourned. No action was taken on the proposition Wednesday night by the Board.

Could Find Tracts

Kulis of American Air Survey described how the survey would pin-point and pick up in the county clerk's office with a card system which would contain all pertinent information on every property in the county.

Through this cross index card system it would be possible to find any property in the county with a minimum of time. The cards would contain all information as to the property present owner and also previous owners, making it easy for attorneys to trace title. He also explained that through a micro-filming of records there would be great space saving.

Present at the meeting were many county officials as well as members of the County Planning Board.

Prior to presenting the speakers, Supervisor Raichle explained the purpose of the meeting introduced the county officials present and stated that the meeting had been called pursuant to a request by the joint Industrial Development and Tax Base Study Committees. The purpose was to present to the Board of Supervisors information on a plan to broaden and equalize the property tax base throughout the county and to receive information on preparation of property tax maps.

Cite Importance

In a report to the Board on March 9, the joint committee pointed out the importance of having tax maps prepared prior to undertaking a county-wide reappraisal which would result in the equalization of tax rates throughout the county.

That report pointed out that the most economical way to have property maps prepared was to utilize the services of a professional air survey firm which specializes in the preparation of property maps. The reappraisal must be done by an outside professional firm so that the results

INSURANCE PROBE—Insurance investigators today were scheduled to probe the fire that completely gutted the New Paltz Theater during Wednesday's snowstorm. Fire Chief August Martin who directed firefighters for hours in their battle to control the raging blaze said he is working with the investigators in an effort to determine the cause of the fire that

Ask Quick Action on Perrines

The Perrine's Bridge Committee met Tuesday night at Kingston Savings Bank and voiced strong objections to a report that a covered bridge in Schoharie County and the Highland Halfway House were designated as historical sites while the span in Rifton continues to be ignored.

Committee Chairman John Grady of Rifton said his group had no objections to the other sites being designated for their historical value but asked this morning, "Why do they have to get it before us?"

Perrine's Is Older

The bridge under discussion in Schoharie County is called the Blenheim Bridge over Schoharie Creek and is located near North Blenheim off New York State Rt. 30. It is considered the longest covered single span bridge in the United States. It was built in 1855 while Perrine's Bridge was built in 1850.

Blenheim Bridge has been chosen as a national historic site which raised the question from Grady. "What is Congressman Resnick doing about this?"

"Apparently some former congressman in that county got the ball rolling (the bridge was declared a national historic site in 1964) so what's the hold-up here?" Grady said.

Grady blasted legislators in general in his statement this morning. "Assemblyman Wilson promised that a member of the State Historic Trust would inspect the bridge a few weeks ago," Grady said. "We're still waiting."

The State Historic Trust offices in Albany were contacted by The Freeman this morning and a spokesman said that although the Trust was aware of Perrine's Bridge he was not sure if any inspections were made. He added that an inspection was planned shortly when the weather breaks.

Doubts on Halfway

The spokesman ruled out any possibilities of the Highland Halfway house being designated as a state historical site. He said that on a local level the Halfway House was certainly qualified but

Despite Snows Here... Experts Still Wary on Water

By CHARLES R. DOUGLAS
Freeman Staff Reporter

Snowfall, as it has been this past winter, including the record-breaking storms of March, when calibrated into rainfall in the Kingston area, is not overly encouraging to men with an eye on water supply, and who remember the dry months of the past six years.

Edmund T. Cloonan, local water department superintendent who this week attended an Albany U.S. Army Corps of Engineers hearing dealing with the Northeastern United States water supply said it was reported that the trend recently is slightly upward, but experts are still concerned with results of the drought years.

Monthly Totals Down

Locally, for instance, January and February, in terms of rain, have contributed only 3.84 inches against an average of 6.18 inches, and as snowy as March has been to date, its contribution in rainfall has been roughly three inches against an average for the month of 3.83 inches in the city's water supply area.

In the area of Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir, March contributed 33 inches of snow, bringing the total, to date for the winter months to 105 inches. The winter total in 1966 was 48 inches.

Over-All Blanket Lighter

Snowfall in the city was heavier in March with a total of 37.2 inches reported by the city's engineer's office, but the winter total of 85 inches was considerably lighter. It was the heaviest total for a single month since the department began its records in 1932. The next best was 35 inches in February, 1962.

The city's winter totals were: December 22 inches, January 21.5 inches, February 23 and this month 37.2 inches.

Superintendent Cloonan notes that during the past 11 years, rainfall in the Cooper Lake area has been normal or slightly above in only two years.

In New York City's Ashokan Reservoir area March contributed 34 inches of snow bringing the total in the winter months to 86 inches. The reservoir, hard hit by the drought years, is expected to gain substantially from the spring runoff.

Others Scheduled

Besides the Albany hearing held this week, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers had scheduled others to be held at Rochester and Binghamton this month and one in New York City next month. The hearings are also sponsored by the New York State Water Resources Commission.

They were called as a start of

1968 Opening Seen Name Jersey Man As Principal of New RVCS School

A New Jersey man, Philip J. Buonfiglio, has been named principal of the Middle School now under construction in the Rondout Valley Central School District.

Funds Voted Tuesday

Funds for completion of the Middle School were approved by voters Tuesday as part of a $1,500,000 bond issue. The school which will accommodate grades five through eight is being built near the present high school and is expected to be ready by September of 1968.

Curriculum and faculty selection is under study at the present time.

Most of Buonfiglio's graduate work done in recent years has been aimed at developing curriculum to meet the needs of today's child. Specifically, he feels that the new Middle School can present new and exciting programs for the students based on the simple assumption that a child should grow at a continuous rate, determined by the child's ability. It is his feeling that with the superb design of the building, the outstanding instructional staff now present in the system, the ability of the district to attract new teachers and the obvious desire of the communities and the board of education to maintain top quality education in the district, the Middle School will represent unlimited educational opportunities.

Buonfiglio has served as ele-

Bid Mayor Brief Fifth Warders On Lagoon; Secrecy Questioned

Louis J. and Lillian C. Turck, of 50 North Street feel that Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan should meet with Fifth Ward residents to discuss the Kingston Point Lagoon on the site of the proposed John F. Kennedy Park.

Their statement:

"Since our Mayor Ray Garraghan has returned to our city from his vacation, we feel there is a lot of explaining to do. He has not come forth with a statement in regard to the application filed for extended landfill in Kingston Point Lagoon.

"Reports are to the effect that there is no change in the original plan for this landfill. If this statement is true, then why is it necessary to file this new application? (The one reported recently by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.) Is there a possibility that the City of Kingston has been in violation since the start of this dump? Whom, may we ask, has the answers to the questions, concerning this project, that the adjoining property owners have to ask?

"Since we stated in a prior release that our Alderman, Clifford G. Sinsabaugh was thought to be part of this maneuver, we now know that his knowledge of this matter was exactly the same as all other owners of property adjoining this lagoon. Since talking with Alderman Sinsabaugh in regard to the matter, we have found there are many, many questions he has asked and received no answers. Why, may we ask, all of the secrecy involved in this matter and this application?

"We feel that at this time Mayor Garraghan should afford the courtesy to the owners of property adjoining this lagoon area, a meeting at his convenience and bring to light the many problems that are involved.

"If, as he stated, the plans have not been altered in the request, then we are of the opinion that there is a direct conflict with the application made to the corps of engineers, and the plan that has been on display in public places throughout the city.

"Come forth mayor and reveal all information to the property owners concerning this plan. Give us the marina and boat basin as planned, not just an extension granting the cite more affordable space to unload its trash and junk, and forget the possibility of an incinerator for our city. In unity there is the most of strength Mr. Mayor, and as it now stands we are unified. Get together with the residents and let that strength work for you and our city."

LANDFILL NEAR LAGOON — This is the much-disputed city landfill site in the Kingston Point lagoon area, all of which is to be part of the proposed John F. Kennedy Park. The site came in for recent attention when the

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers reported on plans filed to fill in part of the lagoon. City refuse is dumped and covered in the area. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr)

Social Studies Program Topic Of Board Meet

The Elementary School Social Studies Program was the educational topic presented at the March meeting of the Ontario Central School Board of Education at the West Hurley School.

Mrs. Susan Abramsky, Miss Dorothy Birmingham and Mrs. Frances Mehm, faculty members at the school, served on the panel which presented the program.

Using materials developed in first and second grade classes, Mrs. Mehm illustrated the units studied in those grades. She pointed out that children begin studying topics that are familiar to them—the home and family—and gradually expand in area and time to the school, community, and then differing communities.

Emphasis is placed on an understanding of concepts and an appreciation for other humans and the forces that affect them, in addition to the acquisition of factual knowledge.

Mrs. Abramsky discussed the program in third grade—New York State, and fourth grade—regional studies of the United States.

She emphasized the efforts made to make history real for children. She discussed the many field trips classes take and the visual aides used to make the social studies program come alive.

Mrs. Abramsky also illustrated her talk with projects constructed by third and fourth graders and teaching tools used in the Ontario Schools.

Emphasis in fifth grade is placed on the history of the U. S. and an overview of our North and South American neighbors, and in sixth grade on the eastern hemisphere, said Miss Birmingham during her presentation.

She stressed that fifth and sixth grade units were part of a continuing spiral designed to increase the child's understanding and appreciation of the world around him. She also stressed the increasing use of reading research skills to obtain information on the units being studied.

The social studies, she said, are an excellent focus for developing study skills, research skills using library resources, and oral and written reporting skills.

In conclusion, Miss Birmingham said the elementary social studies program at Ontario is characterized by: Active involvement of the children in project work, field trips and research. Availability and use of a wide variety of materials, texts, library books, visual aids and field trips. Correlation with other disciplines especially reading and written and oral English.

Mrs. Ernie Levins, West Hurley School Principal, organized the program and introduced the speakers. Ronald P. Vanni, director of Elementary Education, served as consultant to the group.

Kings' Chess Club Meets in Deanie's

The King's Knight Chess Club has moved its regular meeting place from Kingston to Woodstock. The club is now playing every Friday night at Deanie's, upstairs. Anyone interested in playing chess is invited to attend; regular membership, involving small annual dues, is available at any time.

The club is a member of the Hudson Valley Chess League and is affiliated with the U.S. Chess Federation. Small tournaments within the club are arranged throughout the year.

The club also fields a five-man team for team matches with the other Hudson Valley clubs such as Schenectady, Albany, Poughkeepsie, and Yorktown. The King's Knight Chess Club holds the Hudson Valley championship for 1966 and is scheduled for a play-off game with Yorktown to determine the 1967 championship, awarded at the time of the Hudson Valley Open Tournament, held annually in Woodstock in June.

The club and the big annual tournament (for individual, not team play) are open to any players—beginners, seasoned players, or in-between.

Faces Two Violations

Robert Stevens, 25, of Cold Spring, was cited for two violations early today after his car struck the gates at a railroad crossing on River Road about two miles north of Route 44-55. Town of Lloyd, Sergeant Edward Whalen of the Highland state police said Stevens will appear in court at a later date to face charges of driving with unsafe tires and without a license. The mishap occurred at about 3 a. m.

SPEEDY AIRCATS are among the latest watercraft in the Army inventory for fighting in the shallow inland waterways of Vietnam. The small boats have an aircraft engine and propeller mounted in the rear and are capable of speeds up to 48 m.p.h. They mount a .30 caliber machine gun and can carry five infantrymen besides.

Dinner Invite Always Welcome

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were going over our guest list for a series of dinner parties we will be giving this winter. I have several widowed friends. My husband said, "Please don't ask any widows for it is too tiring and worrisome having to carry them home afterwards."

Even though they are financially able to take a taxi, they feel that as long as we have a car and both my husband and I drive we should give them chauffeur service home.

Please tell widows that they would get more invitations if they wouldn't expect so much. DAYTON

DEAR DAYTON: If YOUR widow friends expect "too much" it's up to you to straighten them out, but please don't generalize. Most widows are so tickled to get a dinner invitation they are delighted to provide their own transportation.

DEAR ABBY: A rather embarrassing thing happened to me and I need some advice. The other day I received a very appreciative note from a friend of mine thanking me for a baby gift I did not send. The worst part of it is, I never got around to sending her baby anything, although I had been meaning to.

Should I let this person know of her mistake? Or should I ignore the whole thing so she'll never know I didn't send anything?

DEAR B: Let your friend know at once that a mistake has been made. Then she can try to find out who sent the gift and thank her for it.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for all patrolmen to see. One evening I was driving my own car and my boyfriend was sitting beside me.

A patrolman came alongside me and signaled for me to pull over, which I did. I had been exceeding the speed limit slightly, but that didn't bother me. What did was this: The patrolman looked at my driver's license, then he looked at me and said, "Is this YOURS?"

I assured him that it was and asked why he questioned it. He said, "You don't LOOK 46 years old." Abby, I wanted to hit him. I can easily pass for early thirties, and sometimes do. Needless to say, I was humiliated, embarrassed, and annoyed.

DEAR OLDER: No wonder the police are discouraged. Here a cop compliments you and you get sore. The cops can't win!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "POSITIVELY STUMPED" IN LOUISVILLE: If neither you nor your daughter knows which one of you he is interested in, I suggest you BOTH forget him. He's probably too young for you, and too old for your daughter.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Set Discussion On Dog Problems In Hurley Area

A public hearing on dog problems in the Town of Hurley will be held in West Hurley Fire Hall Monday March 27 at 8 p. m. The regular monthly meeting of the Town Board will follow the hearing.

Several instances of dogs biting children have been reported in Hurley. Fortunately, none of the animals have been rabid.

Early in January the whole area was on the prowl for a dog who had reportedly bitten two children. The Sheriff's department was called in along with the SPCA and the search went on for four days. The dog was caught and found to be healthy.

As of yet none of the victims of dog bites have come down with the dreaded rabies. Rabies is rare during the cold part of the year but the danger increases markedly during the summer.

VC Understating Losses

Think Field Bosses Tone Down Reports To Chiefs in Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intercepted military messages indicate Communist battlefield commanders are holding back or toning down reports to Hanoi about their Vietnam war casualties, U.S. officials report.

Captured documents discussed by Gen. William C. Westmoreland at this week's Guam conference were said to show the Viet Cong deliberately understate their battle losses while exaggerating American casualties 20 to 40 times.

American figures reflect 60 per cent higher enemy casualties this year compared with 1966.

Officials said this masking of the true situation by Communist fighters in the field may be one reason the North Vietnamese leadership presses the war despite increasing allied power.

These officials, who refused to be publicly named, said that until Hanoi's will is broken by military pressure, the conflict could drag on indefinitely.

Officials refused to say the war will be intensified to force the enemy to negotiate a peace, but disclosed American B52s will be moved to Thailand in April to be nearer Communist targets in Vietnam. This shift of some of the big jets from Guam, where strikes now originate, will cut the B52s' base to target time from six hours to two.

It will mean more B52 bombing missions can be conducted in a 24-hour period against enemy infiltration routes through Laos as well as troop concentrations and supply stores in South Vietnam.

The planned vearend U.S. manpower goal remains unchanged, officials said. Sources report that plans are to have 470,000 men in South Vietnam by the end of December, up some 50,000 from current levels.

Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, was said to believe the 470,000 will be adequate to meet priority objectives of striking at Communist base camps and pressuring the so-called pacification program.

Consideration of the activity reports for two months, matters pertaining to the Community Chest, and plans for Salvation Army week were on the agenda of the meeting of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army this week. Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president of the Board, reviewed the activity reports for a two-month period, emphasizing the necessity of interviews in requests for help. He cited incidences in which the interviews had produced additional information which had led to the rehabilitation of the persons involved. Family welfare cases, transient welfare, the financial statements were reviewed by the Board.

An appeal from the Community Chest for volunteer workers in its offices was considered, as well as the preparation of a float for the annual Community Chest parade in 1967.

Brigadier Jacob Hohn called attention to the advent of Salvation Army Week, May 22-27, and said that the publicity committee would hold a meeting shortly to determine various ways of properly marking this national week.

Initial preparations for the annual financial budget of the Salvation Army were also announced, with the Finance Committee scheduled to meet on this subject.

Advisory Board members in attendance, in addition to Brigadier and Mrs. Jacob Hohn, were Thomas Reynolds Jr., William Blair, William Stopher, Mrs. Dale Auchmoody, LeRoy Singleton, John Lawson, James Murphy, Thomas Heneberry, Thomas Penrose, George Antonetta, Edwin Ford, Henry P. Elghmey, A. J. Bruckert, Oscar V. Newkirk, Ernest Rowe and Boyd Miller.

Power Continues To Generate Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan advanced by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to limit the use of nuclear power to private electric utilities in New York State continues to generate controversy.

When the Republican governor introduced his plan for the expansion of electric-power facilities, it was criticized harshly by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The senator's position was supported Wednesday by Alex Radin, general manager of the American Public Power Association. Radin said the governor's approach would force a "double Rockefeller's plan would limit the utilization of nuclear power to private utilities and restrict

Gothamites Slow In Adding to Coffers of IRS

NEW YORK (AP) — New Yorkers seem to be in no hurry to fatten Uncle Sam's pocketbook this year, and the Internal Revenue Service is a little worried.

A spokesman for the IRS said Wednesday that federal income tax returns from the Manhattan District are running "a couple of hundred thousand less than last year at this time."

Uncle Sam thinks the slowdown may be caused by "confusion" between requirements for filing city and federal tax returns.

Taxpayers earning under $8,000 do not have to file New York City tax returns. Federal law, however, requires residents and citizens to file federal income tax returns if they made $600 or more during 1966. Persons over 65 must file if they earned $1,200 or more.

Kennedy said the public authority should participate in the development of nuclear-powered facilities to provide a competitive environment that would ensure fair rates to consumers.

Radin said Rockefeller's approach would be "a double disservice" to New York State consumers by "virtually wiping out the competitive effect of public power and depriving New York rate - payers of the lower - cost power that would result from public financing."

Radin said his organization represents about 1,400 municipal and other publicly owned electric utilities in 45 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Hurt Chasing Dog

McNair's police dog took leave of his mobile kennel for a romp down one of Salt Lake City's busiest streets. The 28-year-old officer followed with his truck — but didn't see the utility pole during one of the zigzag maneuvers of the chase.

Cockcroft and a colleague got the 1951 Nobel Prize in physics.

DRINKING DRIVERS

There has been a sharp increase recently of local residents charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. This is a serious situation which calls for relentless teamwork of police enforcement agencies, the judges, who mete out the sentences, and the jurors, who sit in judgment on motor vehicle operators charged with the "unforgivable sin of the highway."

Drinking drivers are to blame for a large share of the lives lost in accidents, for hundreds of thousands of the injured victims and a portion of the huge economic losses of accidents. There are more drinking drivers on the roads than most people seem to think and they do cause more accidents, both fatal and non-fatal, than is generally presumed. The street or highway is no place for an operator of a motor vehicle who has handicapped himself by drinking.

The prevalence of drunken drivers on the streets and highways is frightening. There will be fewer of them, when deserved justice in all its forms becomes more certain.

SNOW REMOVAL

Men in charge of snow removal operations in the city and county always have a rough job and no matter the results there always will be criticism.

In some instances, there is justification for criticism because of the failure to act promptly or to use manpower and equipment to the best of advantage. One method of efficient snow removal is to battle storms and start sanding operations while they are in progress. Whether it is a winter or spring snowstorm, waiting until there is a tie-up on hills and grades or crashes of cars is not the efficient way to operate.

We trust this is the last one this spring and the knowledge of local conditions and experience gained will help in the future.

TRUE FOCUS ON BOMBING

The Pentagon's insistence that American bombing in Vietnam is governed by a constant effort to keep civilian casualties to a minimum has received support from a source not known for its sympathy with the war—the New York Times.

The well-known doctor and medical writer for the Times, Howard A. Rusk, M.D., asserts that the picture many Americans have of Vietnam as a devastated country filled with napalm-scarred children "simply is not true."

Rusk visited 20 civilian hospitals in South Vietnam, from the 17th parallel in the north to the Gulf of Siam in the south, from an isolated dispensary in the highlands to large provincial hospitals in the hottest war zones.

He personally saw every burn case in the 20 hospitals.

"Among them was not a single case of burns due to napalm and but two from phosphorous shells," he reports. Furthermore, "of the scores of American physicians queried, many had not seen a single case of burns due to napalm and others had seen but a single case."

For every case of burns resulting from war, says Rusk, there are scores of burns resulting from gasoline. This is because inflation has made cooking fuel very expensive and many Vietnamese pilfer or buy stolen gasoline. Their inexperience with its use leads to tragic results.

Monthly surveys of the country, he adds, indicate that approximately 15 per cent of all hospital admissions are war casualties. The remaining 85 per cent are for disease or accidents.

American and allied forces are causing civilian casualties, but these are unpreventable in this type of conflict, says Rusk — "and not nearly so great as the killing and wounding of civilians by the Viet Cong."

The Viet Cong have continuously used terror tactics against civilians, he says. As the war has become intensified, "they have deliberately wiped out villages and mined busy roads."

This may not satisfy those who maintain that what Vietnamese do to Vietnamese is their own business. But while they are damning their own country, they might

THE MAN WHO RAISED MONEY FOR DODD SPEAKS

New Haven, Conn.—The most mystified man in the whole brouhaha over Senator Tom Dodd's expenses is Arthur T. Barbieri, the Democratic Town Chairman of New Haven who got up the big dinner in 1965 which raised some $80,000 for the Senator. Barbieri, a large, affable and capable political pro, has had a lot to do with dinners, and it has always been his understanding (which goes for the political trade as a whole) that any time an affair is billed as a "testimonial" to a man, it means that he is being honored with a gift. And, since a gift is, by definition, something one receives without performing a service for it, it does not figure as taxable income.

So, if the affair that Barbieri staged for Tom Dodd at the Hotel Statler in Hartford, Conn., was indeed a "testimonial," and not something arranged to build up a war chest for specific political purposes, the way that Dodd spent the money is immaterial. He could have bet it on a single horse, or kicked it into the Potomac River, or used it as a fund for providing cream for stray cats, without any legal questions being raised about it.

The case, then, hinges on the motivation behind the dinner. And, since Barbieri was himself a chief instigator of the affair, he claims that the motivation is his to know.

The proof that it was a "testimonial" is contained in the original invitation letter sent out by Barbieri, where the word is adjectivally used to describe the forthcoming affair. True enough, the letter referred to the 1964 campaign deficit incurred by Dodd out of his own pocket. Barbieri wrote: "He spared himself no personal efforts . . . and undertook every financial expense necessary . . ." This tied the occasion for the dinner to a specific campaign. But as a "testimonial" that he raised a sum far in excess of what Dodd might need to erase the 1964 personal deficit, the balance could have been to bid the Senator out of troubles caused by his other office-connected expenses. How does a man bail himself out? Common sense says it is by paying for ordinary bills that have been skipped because politics has left the cupboard bare. The estimate is that most Senators need $15,000 a year more than salary and allowances to reimburse themselves for the skipping.

Congressman John V. Tunney of California, who spoke to the diners in the absence of his father Gene, clearly understood the testimonial nature of the gathering. He said it "is a distinct pleasure for me to have the opportunity to be here tonight at a testimonial dinner honoring Senator Dodd." If Tunney knew what the dinner was for, others must have known, too. So Barbieri isn't stretching things when he contends that he has not asked anybody to perpetuate himself in the offdays he has collected from the 400 and more people who have said they intended their Dodd donations "as a personal gift" for use "in any way" the Senator "saw fit." As this column is being written, Barbieri has affidavits to prove that "far more than $40,000" of the testimonial money was clearly understood by the donors to be in the gift category.

Arithmetically, $40,000 is twice what witnesses at the Senatorial investigation hearings contended that Dodd spent on personal campaigns including country club charges, liquor bills, presents, and travel. So, even if Barbieri can't collect affidavits covering one hundred per cent of the money he raised for Dodd, it makes no difference at this point. Dodd still spent less on his personal accounts than the sum that was clearly ticketed for "use in any way he saw fit."

It would have been better public relations procedure if Tom Dodd had kept his testimonial funds and his personal funds completely separated, saving the unspent testimonial money for future political expenses and reimbursing himself out of his future salary for past expenses connected with such things as maintaining a second Washington home. This would have prevented misunderstandings. But the Senate Committee on Standards isn't passing judgement on public relations. It is hard to see how the committee can condemn Dodd if the money he spent on personal items was clearly gift money. What is undoubtedly needed is a whole new set of rules governing campaign expenditures, but they can't be framed to catch Tom Dodd—and a hundred other Congressmen — on an ex post facto basis.

Wiggly Lines in Vision

Traceable to Migraine

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What would make me see a network of lines that wriggle and shake and blot out part of my vision? When I close my eyes, the lines are bright, like a sun spot, only flickering. They clear up after 20 or 30 minutes.

A—The aura of migraine fits your description. In children and young adults this aura is usually followed by a severe headache over one eye, then vomiting, but in persons past 45 the interval between attacks increases and the headache and nausea may be mild or absent.

Q—What side effects can Cafergot for migraine have?

A—This combination of caffeine and ergotamine tartrate (tablet or suppository), when taken at the first intimation of an attack, is usually effective in shortening the attack. The drug is remarkably free of side effects but should not be taken by anyone who has coronary heart disease, high blood pressure, kidney disease or is pregnant. Cafergot P-B contains pentobarbital as an added ingredient. The pentobarbital is habit-forming.

Q—My husband has severe attacks of migraine. He takes two to six Cafergot tablets daily but the pain in the right side of his face persists. He has even had a nerve cut but that didn't help him. What would you suggest?

A—I would suggest that your husband's trouble, which may have started with migraine attacks, sounds more like tic douloureux or trigeminal neuralgia. Carbamazepine, the latest remedy for this condition, or dilantin, an older standby, should give him some relief. They can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription.

Q—I have had severe migraine headaches for eight years. Skull X-rays, brainwave test and blood tests were all normal, so my doctor says the cause must be emotional. Will taking birth control pills aggravate migraine?

A—Aside from a hereditary predisposition, the cause of migraine is unknown. Attempts to tie it to emotional upsets have yielded no conclusive evidence. Furthermore, there is no reason to believe that they are aggravated by birth control pills. A recent study in Italy indicates that the attacks may be due to an increased concentration in the blood of certain chemicals normally found there (histamine, bradykinin, kallidin and acetylcholine) but we still don't know what would cause these substances to build up in the blood nor how to prevent this accumulation.

profitably reflect on another of Rusk's findings.

This is that the entire hospital system of South Vietnam "would have collapsed had it not been for the assistance of the United States and other non-Communist nations."

There is one thing we in the United States can do, he concludes. "We can supply whatever it takes to provide the services necessary to heal the wounds, however inflicted."

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Some time back, University of

But there's another story at the university — the 8,000 students who quietly give their time to volunteer community

get in the headlines.

A few examples will tell the

Two times a week a dozen upper-division psychology and social sciences spend a half day each week working with mental patients at the Patton State Hospital.

Each summer 700 to 1,000 Los

the San Bernardino Mountains

as student guests. Ninety student volunteers operate the camps. There are five 10-day sessions, including one for blind

built the camp buildings.

Six students spent last sum-

at Ensenada, Mexico. They paid their own transportation and ex-

Last summer, also, 150 unpaid

Guanajuato States in Mexico.

Their goal was to help the villagers improve their own communities. Students start schools or clinics and show the local people how to complete the work and how to operate them. This project, Amigos Anonymous, is an independent student-operated and financed organization.

A dilapidated building in a

Riverside slum has become a teen club. Students give classes in Negro and Mexican history, give medical and housing information, show movies.

Students work in 31 projects in

cause of the unrest. Others work to develop jobs for the men and women of Watts. Some teach, help improve living conditions and aid hungry families.

In Riverside in the last year

280 students served without pay

as tutors for potential dropouts in the first through 12th grades.

Thirty dentistry, medicine,

nuring and pharmacy students are working in San Francisco's

Mission District—a poverty target area.

So on and on for hundreds of projects and 8,000 students.

The same story could be told on every college campus in the United States. A lot more student work is being done on these community projects than on demonstration and riots.

Perhaps we discourage the hard-working student volunteer by overemphasizing the chronic

Hanoi's Shifting Influences May Help Explain Ho's Note

May Have Own 'Hawk, Dove' Factions; Study Behavior

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials believe the North Vietnamese government has its own "hawk" and "dove" factions whose shifting influence may help explain why President Ho Chi Minh released this week his correspondence with President Johnson.

Johnson administration leaders apparently were more surprised by publication of the letters than by Ho's earlier rejection of Johnson's proposal to open direct, secret peace talks.

The pattern of Hanoi's behavior in dealing with peace probes is now undergoing careful analysis here for whatever light it may shed on future possibilities for opening negotiations.

Label Meaning Unclear

Basic to this study is the belief that various factions exist within the North Vietnamese ruling group which may be related to pro-Soviet and pro-Red Chinese interests.

Exactly what the "hawk" and "dove" labels would mean in Hanoi is not clear to Washington authorities but generally they feel that some advisors in Ho's inner circle favor exploring the possibility of peace talks, perhaps for purely tactical reasons, while others advocate rigid adherence to a war policy regardless of cost and risk.

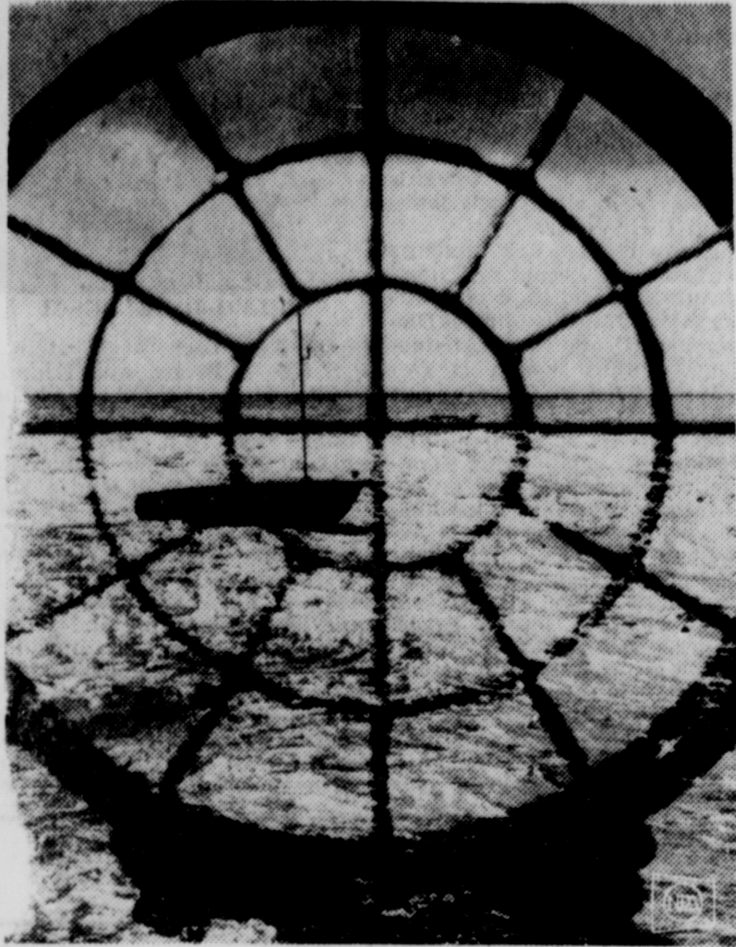

In the exchanges which began between the U.S. and North Vietnamese governments early in January officials believe they see evidence of variations in behavior brought about by the shifting patterns of decision making in Hanoi.

There were five contacts between the governments topped off by Johnson's letter, which asked for U.S.-North Vietnamese talks and proposed to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and stop building up U.S. forces in the South if Ho Chi Minh would stop infiltration into the South.

Delivered Through Envoy

Johnson's letter, which Hanoi made public Tuesday along with Ho's reply, was delivered through a North Vietnamese diplomat in Moscow.

On some occasions, North Vietnamese representatives have refused to receive messages from the United States. On other occasions, they have received them. In Washington's view, this variation in behavior can be explained most readily by which faction in Hanoi has the upper hand at the time.

ZEROING IN on a simulated enemy PT boat, a Navy gunner practices for the real thing in case of hostile action. Threatened here, however, is a remote-controlled target boat built by Ryan Aeronautics and capable of speeds up to 30 knots.

The four messages to Hanoi which preceded Johnson's letter were all concerned with the possibility of expanding a Vietnamese New Year's celebration and cease-fire from a brief truce into a prolonged halt in hostilities coupled with peace negotiations.

The series reportedly began in part as an effort on the part of Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk to discover the meaning of public statements, generally construed as possible peace feelers, made by North after Jan. 1.

Probe Seriousness

The U.S. undertook in secret to find out whether these moves by North Vietnam were seriously intended as peace probes or whether they were merely designed to create worldwide pressure on Johnson to suspend the bombing without any responsive military action by North Vietnam.

While the U.S. messages reportedly were forwarded from Hanoi's mission in Moscow to the North Vietnamese government, they drew no response until Jan. 27 when the United States received what the State Department has called a "diatribe."

This message from Hanoi is understood to have denounced the United States for "aggression" in Vietnam and to have emphasized North Vietnam's demand for an unconditional and total end to bombing and other attacks before peace talks could be held.

Johnson's letter two weeks later represented an effort to raise the exchange to the highest level of government and, hopefully, find out whether at that level North Vietnam's response might be somewhat more encouraging.

Pope Tried Hard

Meanwhile Pope Paul VI sent messages urging that the Vietnamese New Year truce be developed into peace negotiations. He replied to the Pope Feb. 13.

Morgan Firm Cuts Rates Of Interest

NEW YORK (AP) — Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. today cuts the interest rate it charges its best customers. The move could trigger the second round of interest rate cuts across the country in less than two months.

Morgan said it would cut its prime rate from 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 per cent, the same rate Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's second largest, has been charging since Jan. 27.

Prices rose on the Pacific Coast stock exchange after the announcement late Wednesday.

Morgan Guaranty's action was announced about 4:30 p. m.—too late for most other banks here to react. The First National City Bank here said it was studying Morgan Guaranty's move.

But the two largest banks in Philadelphia—the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co. and the Philadelphia National Bank—announced reductions in their prime rates to 5 1/2 per cent. The same action was taken by the Wells Fargo Bank and the Bank of California in San Francisco, both important lenders to business on the West Coast.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Tapioca, often used in puddings, comes from the roots of the cassava plant, says The World Almanac. In the natural state the roots contain highly poisonous hydrocyanic acid and therefore cannot be eaten. To obtain the starchy tapioca pellets, the roots are exposed to heat, which dissipates the acid.

"monstrous crimes," and asked the Pope to use his influence to get the U.S. to "respect the national rights of the Vietnamese people."

Thus when Ho's reply to Johnson arrived here secretly two days later, it caused no great surprise.

Earlier, particularly when Johnson's letter was sent, there was some belief in the White House and State Department, officials said Wednesday night, that Ho might respond with a counterproposal instead of a flat rejection. This belief was based on the possibility that the earlier statements from Hanoi were intended seriously as peace feelers and not simply as pressures to get the bombing stopped.

New Puzzling Element

Hanoi's publication of letters in a letter which accused the United States of aggression and introduced a new and puzzling element into Washington's calculation since in the past, Hanoi has usually insisted on secrecy where such contacts were involved.

Speculation on the specific reasons for Hanoi's action Tuesday embrace several possibilities. —That Communist China somehow got wind of the secret exchange, intervened against any further contacts with the United States, and pro-Chinese elements in Hanoi insisted on publication to reassure the Chinese.

—That for reasons of internal Hanoi politics related to the split between the Soviet Union and Red China, the exchange was made public to embarrass the Soviet government over the fact that contacts had been conducted through Moscow. This in turn could have been related to possible annoyance in Hanoi or pressures from Peking resulting from peace-seeking activities of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin from peace-seeking activities of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin during his London conference with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson the week of Feb. 5.

—That leaders in Hanoi may fear collapse of fighting morale of Communist forces in South Vietnam if word spread that peace negotiations were a distinct possibility.

Middle-Incomers Shoulder Great Society Burden

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Richard L. Ottinger says low and middle-income families will shoulder the burden of support for President Johnson's economic programs.

The Democrat from Pleasantville issued that charge Wednesday after the President's release of $440 million for federal highway and public-works projects. He said such an action at a time of "severe economic strain seems nonsensical." In addition, Ottinger said he was not able to understand Johnson's reasoning in asking for a six per cent income-tax surcharge while asking Congress, at the same time, to restore the seven per cent business-investment tax credit. Ottinger said he supported restoration of the tax credit in order to maintain a high level of employment, continue necessary domestic programs and meet "gigantic requirements" in Vietnam.

But he asserted, the release of public-works funds now will only serve to "heap coals on the inflationary fires already fed by huge defense outlays."

Ballet's Origin

The ballet, derived from the Italian word "ballare," which means "to dance," originated in Italy during the latter part of the 15th century.

Hanoi said the purpose of publishing the exchange was to expose to the world the "perfidy" of the United States in talking about peace while allegedly escalating the war. This is not taken very seriously by Washington officials.

RICHARD J. LUTHER

Notes Candidacy As Legislator in Saugerties Area

As Ulster County, recently reapportioned under the U. S. Supreme Court decision of June 15, 1964, prepares to abandon its Board of Supervisors brand of government for a County Legislature, Richard J. Luther of Saugerties, a school teacher, announced today he will seek GOP endorsement for the new Ulster County Legislature.

He is interested in running in District 1, encompassing the whole of Saugerties, which — with a population of more than 15,000 — will be entitled to four representatives in the legislature, a gain of three over its present one under the Board of Supervisors plan.

Luther, of 9 Prospect Street, Saugerties, became the second candidate for legislature in the area as of this date. Orvil E. Norman of Stone Ridge, a Kingston businessman, announced Feb. 10 that he would seek election as county legislator in District 2, comprising the towns of Ulster, Kingston, Hurley and Marbletown.

In a letter to Republican Party leaders in the Town of Saugerties, Luther said he feels his educational background, professional training as a teacher and newspaper, and involvement in public affairs mark him as an able candidate for nomination.

Lists Main Interests

He cited his early and active interests in Mid-Hudson Patrons for Progress, attendance at the Ulster County Conference on Natural Beauty in 1966, membership in Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society and Community Concert Association, and attendance at meetings of the Board of Supervisors and Saugerties Town Board as evidence of his concern in matters relating to the business and cultural development of Ulster County.

Luther is a native of Cortland, where he attended both high school and college. He has taken advanced study at S.U.C.-Cortland, Boston University, Russell Sage and West Chester State College, Pa., in addition to in-service courses offered by the local school system. Last year he was a candidate for the Jaycees "Young Teacher of the Year Award."

An avid sports fan, he was a sports columnist for the Catskill Mountain Star for five years. He has been associated with WGHQ in Kingston and has done publicity work for several organizations.

A fifth grade teacher at the Main Street School, Saugerties, for the past six years, Luther resides with his wife, Carole, in the Village of Saugerties.

Herbert Cues for Bad Hand

By Oswald and James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Take a look at the bidding of today's hand. South starts with an artificial two club opening and North gives the negative two diamond response.

At this point South could merely rebid to three no-trump but he thinks that his hand is so good it may make a slam with very little help from partner, so South bids three diamonds to show his suit.

What is North's three heart bid? Is it a psychic or just evidence of temporary insanity?

Actually it shows the Herbert convention at work. The Herbert convention provides that if your partner opens two clubs and rebids in a suit after your two diamond response, then you show a really bad hand by bidding the next suit and not the minimum number of no-trumps.

Note that South can't lose three no-trump and has no trouble making an overtrick against a spade or heart lead while if North is declarer the queen of hearts lead gives the defense the first five tricks.

It should also be noted that if South is not playing Herbert he should rebid three no-trump rather than three diamonds and protect himself against a heart lead through his king.

You can also use the Herbert convention when you play ordinary strong two bids.

This way, North would bid two hearts over a forcing two diamond opening and South would play the no-trump contract.

We recommend the Herbert convention highly. However, before you use it, you had better really discuss it with your partner. You don't get to use this convention more than two or three times in a year of steady play and it can be really disastrous if you forget when it does come up.

Hospital Celebration

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — Bright and lively Maria Quinones reached her sixth birthday on Wednesday. She went back to the hospital where she started as a 20-ounce infant to celebrate it.

Lucille Meyer, the nurse who cared for the child during her first months, recalled that the first week was the most critical. Doctors said Maria's chances were slim—that babies of less than 2.2 pounds seldom make it.

Name Director For Junior High Project in BOCES

An East Northport man, Nello John Pesci, has been named program director for the E.S.E.A. Title 3 junior high school project Space-Success.

Announcement of the appointment came from Henry Hopper, district superintendent of the Ulster County BOCES.

Unique Concept

The project will operate a program designed to motivate and excite a respectable percentage of maturing slow learner students who have developed an attitude that school is irrelevant. At the same time, these students suffer from disillusionment and a negative self image towards caring for themselves, their families and their futures.

In many cases, such students are capable but because of slower maturation and lack of motivation fail to fulfill potential. Discouragement leads to dissatisfaction and failure which is frequently followed by dropping out of school, it was pointed out.

Space-Success is a unique and educationally challenging concept of a "special attack" on rehabilitating a special junior high school population. And it is expected to produce significant "frontier work" in educational programming in the Mid-Hudson Region," related Hopper as he announced Pesci's appointment. "And, we are fortunate in having a dynamic young man with an outstanding background in teaching children with learning disabilities to head our program. Early education of Pesci was in the New York City System at P.S. 78 — Bronx, and Evander Childs High School. He then earned his B.A. at Manhattan College and did his graduate work at Notre Dame University, and in addition, will hold a Master of Science degree in the field of "Special Education Mental Retardation" from Adelphi University as of June 1967. At 30 years of age, Pesci has enjoyed a variety of teaching and professional experiences including three years at Lincoln High School, Yonkers, working with slow learners and gifted children; four years with Wantagh Junior High School working with slow learners, emotionally disturbed, brain injured, and gifted children; and one year at Hofstra University with NDEA Institute for the culturally disadvantaged.

He has served on programs and participated in panel groups relating to study of the slow learner problems at the N. Y. State Council for Exceptional Children Conventions. He has held the office of first vice president, Council for Exceptional Children Chapter 71, Long Island, a professional organization.

Pesci is married to the former Barbara Ann DiMotta, of New York and they have four children; Janine 6, Nello-John Jr. 5, Gregory, 2½ and Andrew-James 15 months.

Great Challenge

"I believe we have one of the great educational challenges of our time in solving some of the problems of children who are a sizeable portion of the school population and yet are not having a positive experience during their school years. In taking this position, I am accepting the challenge to probe into this important educational and socio-psychological problem," commented Pesci.

Space Success is the acronym for "Special Learning Programs Accelerating Coordinated Efforts Through Special Ultimately Consistent Concentrated Educational Supportive Services."

The program is funded under E.S.E.A. Title III through the Mid-Hudson Regional Supplementary Educational Center and is operational under the Board of Cooperative Educational Services of Ulster County, the legal applicant.

Investors Purchase Bay State Tract

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — A group of Greater Boston real estate investors have reached agreement for purchase of the 62-acre waterfront property formerly occupied by the Plymouth Cordage Co.

The investors, known as the Salt Water Trust, signed a purchase agreement Wednesday with the Columbian Rope Co., Inc. of Auburn, N.Y. No price was disclosed.

Columbian will continue to occupy some 450,000 square feet in 19 buildings. Other tenants also will remain.

The Salt Water Trust said the property will be developed as a center of diversified industry.

Local Synagogues Plan Purim Holiday Events

The Festival of Purim will be observed by the Jewish people on Saturday night, March 25, with the reading of the Megillah, the Book of Esther of Scriptures, and Sunday, March 26, with joyful feasts and celebrations.

Purim is the gayest of Jewish holidays. The story is told in the Book of Esther, with its historic and fabled background. It is a story of a people, the Jewish people, who since the triumph of the Persians over the Babylonians, were all living under Persian rule.

It was approximately during the 4th century B.C. that the Persian Emperor, named in the Bible Ahasuerus, but historically known as Xerxes, had raised to the office of prime minister a courtier named Haman. Haman, in his arrogance, desired all the people to bow down to him, but Mordecai, the Jewish advisor of the emperor, refused to do so on religious grounds. Haman, in his hatred for Mordecai, included all the Jews in his plot for revenge, and planned to annihilate them.

Queen Saves Her People

Haman also planned to have Mordecai hung, but he couldn't do so unless he proved to the emperor that Mordecai's people were undesirable. Mordecai himself was a favorite of the emperor because he had at one time foiled a plot to assassinate him. Haman's scheme became even less promising when the emperor, who was seeking the most beautiful girl in his empire to be his queen, selected Esther, Mordecai's cousin, a Jewess. Esther accused Haman before the emperor of his attempt to destroy her people. The emperor, in love with his queen, and having proven to himself the innocence of the falsely accused Jewish people, had Haman hung on the same gallows he had prepared for Mordecai.

The word Purim means "lots," referring to the lots that Haman cast to select the day on which to kill the Jews. This day was the 13th day of the Hebrew month Adar, which is now observed as a fast day to commemorate the fast of Queen Esther, and which she declared as a day of praying and fasting for the Jewish people. The next day, the 14th, is observed as a day of rejoicing for the miracle that God has wrought and saved the Jews from complete annihilation at the hands of Haman and his anti-semitic cohorts. The symbolic food, a pastry called Hamantaschen, which means "Haman's hat," as eaten on Purim. Masquerades, dances, plays and parties are the celebrations of the day, and special prayers are said in the religious services.

Local Observances

At Congregation Ahavath Israel, at 100 Lucas Avenue, the Megillah will be read on Saturday 7 p. m. in the main synagogue. All adults and children must observe the reading of the Megillah. Gragers, or noisemakers, will be distributed to the children, to be used at the pronouncing of the name of Haman during the reading. Refreshments will be served after the services. Sunday at 10:30, a masquerade party will be held for all the children. A play will be presented by the members of the youth organization of the congregation, the USY, awards will be given for the best costumes, and Purim foods will be served. At noon, the USY members will sell hot dogs and Purim goodies for lunch, in order to raise funds for their activities. The parties are open to all.

Assemblyman Robert M. Kelley, R-Brooklyn, said he asked Gov. Rockefeller to return the bill Wednesday before acting on it so that he could give it further study for a possible amendment.

The Associated Press learned, however, that Rockefeller was likely to veto the measure because of "technical problems in the language of the bill."

Hope to Adjournment

The action on that bill was one of several developments in the Legislature Wednesday as the lawmakers stepped up their activity to meet a house - for March 31 adjournment.

The "moonlighting" bill would permit policemen to work at part-time jobs to supplement their salaries as long as the extra job did not conflict with police duties.

Kelley's bill would bar policemen from working as bodyguards, bouncers in bars and nightclubs or at any other job where force would be required.

In the Senate Wednesday:

Final legislative approval was given to a bill that would exempt physicians from parking restrictions while on emergency calls.

But the physicians would be required to leave a "legible" note on their auto's windshield, explaining the reason for the call and listing the address of the person visited.

Permits Sunday Opening

Legislation was approved that would allow commercial car-washing establishments to open from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Sunday, as long as such activity did not interfere with the "response and religious liberty of the community." The bill was passed, 50-4, and dispatched to the Assembly.

Unanimous approval was voted for a measure that would authorize the state health commissioner to contract with hospitals to conduct "refresher" courses for nurses who have not practiced for five or more years. The bill would appropriate $1.5 million to help carry out the program.

In the Assembly, Republicans teamed with the Democratic majority to give solid approval to a bill that would prohibit employers from requiring job-seekers or employees to undergo lie-detector tests as part of the hiring or job process.

Invasion of Heart

Democrats complained that such requirements represented an "invasion of the heart, mind and soul" of an employee or applicant.

The bill was passed, 119 - 22, and sent to the Senate, where it

Muscle Shown By Congress as Budget-Cutters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Their tanks swollen by last year's elections, House budget-cutters have indicated in the first test vote this year that President Johnson's domestic programs face real trouble.

They showed considerable muscle Wednesday as the House passed and sent to the Senate the first of a series of appropriations bills financing domestic programs for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The action came on the eve of recess by the House and Senate for a 10-day Easter vacation. The legislators were to meet briefly today — with no major action scheduled — and won't return until April 3.

The appropriations bill carried $7.5 billion for the Treasury and Post Office departments and the executive office of the President. Since it finances the jobs of thousands of mail carriers and other postal employees, it is one of the most difficult to cut.

Yet it reached the House floor trimmed $112 million below the President's request. And, with almost solid Republican backing, the House chopped out another $2.4 million earmarked for more postal field employees and more personnel for the office of the Treasury secretary.

More significantly, the budget-cutters came much closer than in any recent year to imposing an across the board reduction in spending next year for activities financed in the bill.

One of the items is the President's salary and allowances of $130,000.

The over-all cut, proposed by Rep. Charles R. Jones, R-N.C., and supported by most Republicans, would have in essence trimmed spending next year 5 per cent from amounts set out in the President's budget.

$100 Million Saving

Jonas estimated the saving at $109 million.

Jonas' amendment lost 217 to 168, with 153 Republicans and 15

Democrats supporting it and 198 Democrats and 19 Republicans opposed.

Earlier, in the day, Republican leaders set a goal of $5 billion to $6 billion in spending reductions for next year and singled out such things as rent subsidies, the war on poverty, the Teachers Corps and some phases of the foreign-aid program as potential targets.

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's renewed call for cutbacks in U.S. troops levels in Europe drew support from freshman Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill.

Percy said, "It's time we adjust our position in Europe to the changing facts of life," and cited lessened East-West tension, a stronger European economy and the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

SHS Senior Play Success Lauded, Has Area Showing

Father of The Bride, a comedy by Caroline Francke, recently presented by the Senior Class of Saugerties High School was reported a successful venture.

Work began on the play last January when the cast and stage crew were selected. In addition to actors, student committees were formed to handle such problems as properties, make up, publicity, and stage management. These committees were composed of:

Property — Susan Rivenberg, Janice Garrison, Joan Gilmore, Kathy Proper, Kathy Carnright, Karen Hanson.

Make-up — Cynthia Bernard, Christine Breitenbach, Donna Beckert, Christine Harder, Karen Holman.

Ticket Supervision — Ann Sperl, and Stage management — Gary VanDerbeck, Fred Serravalle, Don Rumble, Mildred Fylling.

As in the past, the entire cast and crew traveled to Hudson to give a performance to the students of the Hudson State School for Girls. The cast was as follows:

WSCS Members Hear Reports

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Saugerties Methodist Church, originally scheduled for Tuesday, March 7, and cancelled because of the snow storm, was held on March 8.

During the business meeting, Mrs. John Whritenor, president, thanked Mrs. George Wilde for being chairman of the Council of Churches dinner, Mrs. William Waldele and Mrs. David Cunningham for being co-chairmen of the dining room for the Men's Club father, son and daughter banquet.

Mrs. Theodore Larson, program chairman, showed two films, "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Promise."

Rosary Society Views Jerusalem Slides at Meet

The Rosary Society of St. Mary's recently viewed a timely program of "Slides of Jerusalem," shown by Father Norman Paulhaus, A.A.

Father Norman had visited there and took the pictures. The slides showed all the proceedings of Holy Week and Calvary.

It was decided that a group visit, Dale's Sanitarium to pay a call on Mrs. Julia Cox, charter president of the Society.

On May 7, after the 8 o'clock Mass, the members will have their annual Communion breakfast. This will be held in the school cafeteria.

The Living Rosary will be held on May 11, also new members will be installed at this time. This will be the scheduled meeting for this month.

Refreshments after the meeting were served by: Mrs. Richard Kramer, Mrs. H. W. Buback, Mrs. William Casal, Mrs. John Fitzpatrick, Mrs. John Hill, and Mrs. James Morse.

Jaynees Offer $300 Scholarship

Saugerties Jaynees announced this week that they are offering a $300 scholarship covering one year's tuition to Ulster County Community College. This scholarship will be based on the student's scholastic ability and his financial need.

Applications for this scholarship can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Robert J. Bailey at the Guidance Department of Saugerties High School.

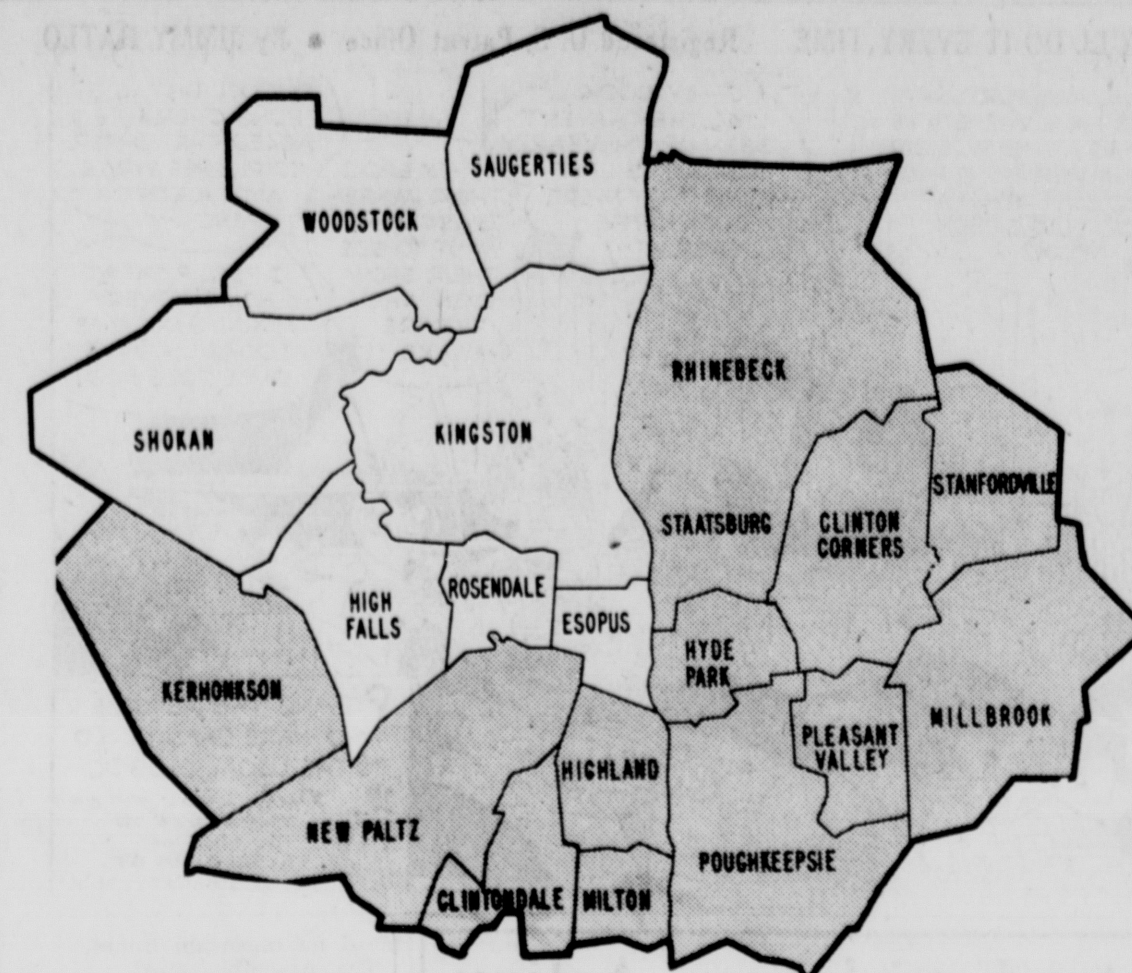

Any interested senior at Saugerties High School should complete the application and return it to Mrs. Bailey by April 30, 1967.

Evetlana Surprised

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Security officials at the Soviet Embassy didn't know that Joseph Stalin's daughter, Evetlana, had defected until she was already in Rome, the Hindustan Times reported today.

The newspaper said Miss Stalin telephoned from the embassy hostel for a taxi on the night of March 6, walked out and took the cab to the U. S. Embassy.

The Soviets reportedly moved Miss Stalin, 41, to the hotel that morning after she had spent the night at the home of Dinesh Singh, India's commerce minister. She was scheduled for a

KINGSTON TOLL-FREE CALLING AREA

PRESENT ☐ BY LATE '69 ☐

TOLL-FREE CALLING PLAN — Map shows present Kingston toll-free calling area (in white) and exchanges that would be added by late 1969

(in shaded portion) under a New York Telephone expansion plan.

Three Companies Plan to Join in Phone Expansion

Three telephone companies plan to join New York Telephone Company—Walden and Walkill; the Red Hook Telephone Company—Staatsburg and Rhinebeck; the Sylvan Lake Telephone Company—Hopewell Junction and La Grange.

Those exchanges serve about 11,500 telephone customers.

In announcing its plan earlier this year, New York Telephone said toll charges for some 7 million calls annually are scheduled to be eliminated by 1969. Telephone customers pay about $1.5 million for those calls now.

The program to be carried out in several stages beginning in mid 1967, is subject to public response and acceptance by the Public Service Commission.

Additional communications facilities required by the program are expected to cost about $8 million.

Monthly rates for telephone customers involved in the program would be increased to reflect the added value and cost of the service.

New York Telephone expects the program to have a beneficial effect on the economy of the mid-Hudson region. Elimination of toll charges ranging from 10 to 25 cents will stimulate communications and open new markets for business, according to the company.

Long-Range Plan
The mid-Hudson project inaugurates a long range New York Telephone program to meet the growing need for wider local calling areas throughout Upstate New York, the company said.

The program is designed to provide toll-free calling eventually from each New York Telephone exchange to other exchanges served by the company within a 20-mile range.

No definite schedule has been established for points beyond the mid-Hudson project. Completion of the overall program for Upstate New York is expected to take 10 years or more. A gradual introduction is necessary, the company pointed out, because extensive additions to telephone facilities will be needed.

The company has explained that when new toll-free routes are established local calling increases radically—usually from 300 to 600 per cent. Additional communications equipment must be installed to handle this extra flow of calls.

Form Committee To Study County Operating Costs
Ulster County today started its own little Hoover Commission study for the purpose of controlling and reducing costs of government wherever possible, it was announced today by Supervisor Peter J. Savago, (R), New Paltz, majority leader of Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The study will include a review of the salary program, and be conducted by Hanawalt Associates, consultants to municipal government who have conducted similar surveys for other governmental agencies.

The following members of the Salary Study Committee participated actively in planning this study under the chairmanship of Supervisor Savago and will collaborate in the course of the work: Joseph Martorana, (R), Plattekill; Franklin S. Kelder, (R), Rochester; Peter Williams, (R), Saugerties; Daniel Smith, (D), Seventh Ward, Kingston; and James J. Carroll (D), 10th Ward, Kingston. Progress reports will be made periodically to this committee as the work proceeds.

Rocky Transportation Plan Has Important Supporters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's proposed $2.5-billion transportation bond issue has the backing of many top-ranking officials, most of whom are either Republicans or Rockefeller appointees.

The five-year plan to improve the state's highways and airport facilities was endorsed heartily Wednesday by speakers at a day-long public hearing called by the Legislature's fiscal watchdogs, the Senate Finance Committee and the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Depends on Vote
The bond issue, which requires the approval of the Legislature and the electorate, would be supplemented by local, state and federal contributions that would push the overall total to $6.4 billion.

Support for the program came from New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, William J. Roman, chairman of the Metropolitan Commuter Transportation Authority, J. Burch McMorran, superintendent of the Public Works Department, and John J. Gilbooley, a member of the New York City Transit Authority.

Rockefeller himself was a witness at the hearing.

Opposition was voiced by Arthur Levitt, the Democratic state comptroller.

Levitt asserted that he favored a long-range approach to transportation in New York State but said he was concerned that such a plan would not receive a thorough financial analysis.

Calls for Agency
The governor's plan also calls for the creation of a super transportation agency that would comprise the now-separate agencies of public works, transportation, and aviation.

Spokesmen for those agencies did not oppose the idea.

In addition Rockefeller's program would establish the Metropolitan Transportation Authority to serve as a "holding company" comprising the Metropolitan Commuter Transportation Authority, the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority and the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Authority.

Those agencies, however, would continue to control their day-to-day operations.

In a related matter, Rockefeller was asked by Sen. Edward J. Sueno, R-East Meadow, whether he has a recommendation to step into the courtyard at his headquarters today.

Suddenly the court was filled by men of the headquarters staff singing "Happy Birthday." Three big cakes were brought out—none with candles—and the commander of U. S. forces in Vietnam cut the first piece with a Navy officer's sword handed to him.

Westmoreland will be 53 on Sunday.

Battle Action Points to Need Of Information

PLEI DJERENG, Vietnam (AP) — In the tangled underbrush it was impossible to see more than a dozen yards ahead. Suddenly an automatic rifle snapped two quick bursts. Two North Vietnamese soldiers — alone and apparently lost — dropped dead in their tracks only 30 feet from a U.S. column.

Cheered Officer
The American company cheered the lieutenant who had cut them down. Capt. Richard E. Ator, Tacoma, Wash., the company commander, was less pleased.

"I wish we hadn't killed them," he said. "He should have aimed at their legs to wound them. Then we could have questioned them. We want information badly. In one month our battalion has taken only one prisoner, despite daily fights with the NVA (North Vietnamese army)."

The incident points up an outstanding feature of the war in the central Vietnamese highlands along the Cambodian border. The need for intelligence about what the North Vietnamese are up to.

The jungled hills west and northwest of Pleiku have been

Find Regulars
In the battle for the Special Forces outpost of Duc Co, in the spring of 1965, exclusively North Vietnamese troops for the first time mangled several South Vietnamese battalions. In November came the siege of the Plei Me outpost that led to the battle of the Ia Drang Valley. The United States suffered then what still remains its highest number of dead for any week of the war, 240.

Since 500 American infantrymen — never less than a brigade of 3,000 or so — have continuously sought North Vietnamese regulars along the border.

More than 5,000 North Vietnamese dead have been recorded. Close to 1,000 Americans died here. Of late, sharp, isolated and costly fights have erupted regularly.

Could Continue
From all indications this situation could continue indefinitely. Both sides are powerful and maneuver constantly. Both now count roughly 10,000 men in the jungles, mountains and valleys. It is estimated the Communists have six regular regiments, but they have become so shadowy that positive identification is not possible.

The Americans have two brigades — the 1st and 2nd of the 4th Infantry Division — plus one battalion of the 3rd Brigade, 25th Infantry Division.

It has devolved into a stand-off. The Americans are under orders not to go closer than 3,000 yards to the Cambodian border. They may enter the buffer zone only in hot pursuit. Otherwise artillery and air strikes take care of the Communists there.

The North Vietnamese have elaborate base camps on the Vietnamese side of the border, but constantly move them. U.S. intelligence officers saw most of the enemy are based in Cambodia. One large village just on the other side of the border, they say, has been identified as populated exclusively by North Vietnamese troops.

Some officers think that the mission of the enemy troops is to tie up American units which could otherwise be used against guerrillas inland. Others believe that American operations have stymied a Communist thrust toward the high plateau around Pleiku.

The pyramid on the Great Seal of the United States is a symbol of the Union's lasting strength.

Solon Sees More Viet Air Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted today intensified U.S. bombing of North Vietnam as the Washington attitude toward peace talks took a pessimistic turn.

Congressional leaders said after a White House meeting Wednesday that President Johnson has little hope for future peace feelers soon.

In Agreement
And top allied military chiefs reportedly agreed at this week's Guam conference that the war could last indefinitely unless military pressure breaks the will of the North Vietnamese.

Dirksen, a key supporter of Johnson's war policies, said airfields near Hanoi probably will be targeted for air attack in the wake of North Vietnam's rejection of the President's bid for peace talks.

"When you are at war and the enemy refuses to talk except on terms that would mean your surrender, you turn the screws on him," Dirksen said in an interview. "You cut off his supply lines and his source of food and you do everything that is necessary to bring him down."

He suggested this would be the President's future strategy. Johnson gave no indication of his future military plans at Wednesday's meeting with congressional leaders of both parties. But a participant said the President was solemn and grim about Ho Chi Minh's rebuff of his offer to halt the bombings as soon as he had assurances North Vietnamese infiltration of the South had stopped.

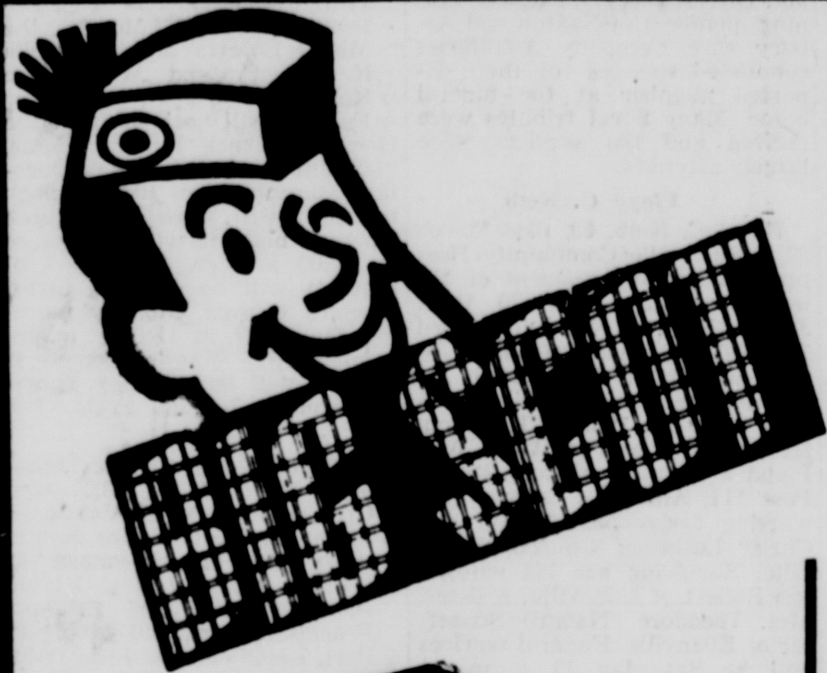

Eleven senators discussed the war at a meeting with U Thant Wednesday at U.N. headquarters in New York, and afterwards Chairman J.W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he agreed with Thant's proposal for ending the struggle.

Thant calls for a simultaneous end to bombing of the North and ceasefire in the South, with opening of negotiations between the United States and North Vietnam.

Fulbright, D-Ark., wouldn't disclose the substance of the two-hour private talk between Thant and the senators.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, a restrained critic of Vietnam policies, suggested the next peace appeal should come through the United Nations.

Say Food Cost Low

By HERBERT G. PELKEY

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — An agricultural leader said today that if it "were not for the ability of the American farmer to produce as he has, we would be paying much higher prices for food than we are today."

Edmund H. Fallon of Syracuse, executive vice-president and general manager of Agway Inc., a 100,000-member farmer cooperative, said current food prices were not excessively high but only seemed that way "because they have come up fast in the last year."

Give Up Less

"Yet, over a reasonable period, they have gone up less than most things we buy," he said.

Fallon, who also is a member of the National Advisory Board on Food and Fiber, discussed the implications of the food-price structure to the farmer in a speech for an agricultural leaders' forum at Cornell University.

Fallon said wages, taxes, and the fact that Vietnam were major forces contributing to higher food prices.

He said that, while retail food prices had risen sharply in the last year they still were below the increases recorded "by a composite of all other consumer items since 1950... and well below the increase in prices charged for consumer services."

Blames Wages, Taxes

Prices are up, he said, because costs are up and "the two biggest components in costs today are wages and taxes."

Fallon said that, "while food is up 33 per cent since 1950, wages are up 81 per cent and taxes per capita are up 122 per cent."

"I am for higher wages—including my own—but we must recognize that labor makes up 44 per cent of the food-marketing bill," he said.

Farmers must receive adequate prices if they are to assure an adequate supply of food, he said.

Ask for Delay

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—The Hamilton Chamber of Commerce has sent a telegram to Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson asking for a delay in the imposition of lockage charges on the Welland Canal, a spokesman said Wednesday.

Sam Smurlick, the president of the chamber, said in the telegram that the charges will increase the costs of major industries in Hamilton and add to inflationary pressures on the Canadian economy.

Transport Minister J. W. Pickersill declined last week to alter his decision despite a protest from business and industry that the tolls would have a discriminatory effect on Lake Ontario communities.

Call Us, Plea of Police Chief

The public can be of great assistance to the police if certain matters are reported immediately. Police Chief Robert F. Murphy emphasized today.

"If a suspicious person or persons is seen around a home or place of business any time of the day or night, it would be greatly appreciated if the police were notified," he said and added:

"Report any unusual noise such as breaking glass, etc. 'Too often people are reluctant to call police for fear of becoming involved. You will not become involved. Your call will be in the strictest confidence. If you care to give your name fine, if you don't call us anyway and we will investigate."

"Above all do not attempt to conduct your own investigation. Call us."

work is expected to start early in April.

Grading of the first parcel included blasting of rock mounds in the area. A second section is still to be acquired by the KHA from the Kingston Urban Renewal.

Acquisition of property there is still in progress, but is expected to be completed before the housing project is well advanced.

George E. Yerry Jr., KHA chairman on last Oct. 13 announced signing of the contract with the Robie Corporation which had bid $1,697,000. The first graded section extends off Hasbrouck Avenue and Murray Street. The second is below that in the vicinity of Meadow Street.

Total project cost is estimated at some $2,800,000.

Development of the area involves the building of new streets plus installation of water and sewer lines. Construction is due for completion by July 20, 1968.

Say Precautions Lagged in Mishap

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Supervisors made no rigorous attempts to keep flammable materials out of the highly volatile pure oxygen atmosphere of a space chamber, an Air Force Board investigating a fatal Jan. 31 fire reported Wednesday.

Its study of the oxygen-atmosphere fire which killed two airmen in the chamber at Brooks Air Force Base here said that "standard operating procedures did not exclude excessive flammable solid materials from being used routinely in experimental programs."

An electric spark from a wire with faulty insulation was found to be the ignition source, the board said.

The blaze was similar to the Jan. 27 fire which killed the three Apollo 1 crew in the space cabin at Cape Kennedy. Both fires occurred in pure oxygen atmospheres.

Airman 3.C. Richard A. Harrison, 21, Auburn, N.Y., and Airman 3.C. William F. Bartley Jr., 20, Indianapolis, were fatally burned in the fire here.

Rejects Korean Red Demand on Newsman Return

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—North Korea accused the U.N. Command today of kidnapping a Communist newsman who defected at this truce village, and demanded his immediate return.

U.S. Army Col. George F. Charlton, secretary of the U.N. Command, rejected the Red demand and said that Lee So-keun, 44, vice president of the official North Korean Central News Agency, had defected to South Korea of his own initiative.

"The choice of an individual to decide where to live is a basic right of the peoples in all free nations," Charlton told North Korean Col. Han Chu-kyong.

Lee fled from the Armistice Commission hut Wednesday in a car with U.S. Lt. Col. Donald E. Thomson as Communist guards fired at least 40 bullets at them, Charlton protested the guards' action and accused them of "reckless" shooting.

Col. Han retorted that the guards fired because it was an "abnormal" situation in which a Communist newsman was being abducted.

A North Korean broadcast earlier today also charged that Lee was kidnapped and accused U.S. military police of forcing him into the car. It said the incident was "part of the aggressive maneuvers of the U.S. imperialists to undermine the Korean armistice agreement, increase tension and ignite a new war."

Lee had come to Panmunjom with other Communist reporters to cover an Armistice Commission meeting.

Note Accord In Pennsy on Phone Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Bell Telephone Co. and the Pennsylvania Telephone Union announced today agreement on a new contract providing wage increases of $3.50 to $5.50 for about 7,800 employees, ending a week-long strike.

The three-year contract, with a wage reopener clause, ended a walkout that began March 16. Another estimated 12,200 employees were also idled when they refused to cross picket lines.

The new contract covers operators, clerical help and dining service personnel, said a joint announcement from the company and the union, Local 1944 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFI-CIO.

Old wage scales were from $67 to $101 a week.

The contract also contains a maintenance of dues clause, that had been a prime issue in early talks. Under that clause dues will still be deducted for employees who join the union, but withdraw during certain specified times.

During the strike direct dialing service was maintained, but there was some disruption on the calls placed by operators.

Bell estimated the contract would cost it $2.6 million more a year.

The area covered reaches 1,000 miles from the north tip of Maine to the James River Basin in Virginia.

While the NEWS study is being conducted under the direction of the Army Corps of Engineers, the participation of all other federal, state and local government agencies, and private plus public organizations involved in the field of water supply is considered vital to its success.

It was noted at the Albany hearing that ground water in the drought stricken area is "coming back."

U.S.-Soviet Arms Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met today to try to arrange U. S.-Soviet talks on limitation of the arms race in offensive missiles and antimissile defense systems.

The meeting was the first announced followup to President Johnson's statement March 2 that the Soviet government had agreed "to discuss means of limiting the arms race in offensive and defensive nuclear missiles."

The U. S. Embassy said Thompson and Gromyko talked for about 30 minutes about efforts to arrange detailed talks.

Remove Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Restrictions on the use of $175 million in highway funds freed for use by the states have been removed by the Bureau of Public Roads.

The money was part of $1.1 billion for highways frozen last fall by presidential order to take the heat out of the economy.

With indications that the threat of inflation was lessening, the bureau released the $175 million last month but said it could be used only for right-of-way and engineering work tied to later construction.

Wednesday these limitations were rescinded.

Release of an additional $350 million for unrestricted use was announced last weekend.

To Unionize Farm Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—A no-holds-barred fight to organize the farm workers is advocated by the AFL-CIO's chief organizer.

William L. Kircher, director of the AFL-CIO's department of organization called on unions to resort to "strike, boycott, harassment and every kind of economic sanction that you can possibly get by with" to achieve this goal.

In an interview with the Mutual Broadcasting System, Kircher said these tactics were justified because the deck has been stacked against the nation's three million farm workers.

Kerhonkson

On Palm Sunday the congregation of the Federated Church of Kerhonkson met for the regular worship. The message, "I Believe in Jesus Christ," was brought by their pastor, the Rev. Billy V. Vestal.

The Senior Choir sang the anthem "The Palms." Special music by the Intermediate Choir was "Flowers of the Field." The Offertory Anthem "Hosanna to His Name" was sung by the Junior Choir. Following the sermon the Sacrament of Baptism was administered to Linda Denise DePuy, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. DePuy.

Douglas Decker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Decker, and Jennifer Hope Vestal, infant daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Billy V. Vestal.

Senior High Youth met Sunday evening to discuss plans for a trip to Philadelphia on March 31, April 1 and 2. This group will host some of their traveling companions on Thursday, March 30.

A Mission Festival work meeting was held at the parsonage at 9:30 a. m., Wednesday. The senior and intermediate choirs met at 7 p. m. at the church Monday. At 8 p. m., Thursday, a Maundy Thursday Communion Service will be held. On Friday evening, junior and intermediate choirs meet at 8:15 p. m. in the church. At 8 p. m. on Friday, a Good Friday service will be held.

On Saturday, the Women's Society will hold a food sale at Poppel's Store beginning at 1 p. m.

On Easter Sunday, a union sunrise service and breakfast will be held at 6:30 a. m. at Camp Epworth. Because of the early date of Easter this year, the service will be held inside the camp dining hall. Sunday school will meet at 9:40 a. m. as usual, but classes will be dismissed at 10:30 a. m. due to the Easter Sunday worship service.

Easter Sunday Worship Service will be held at 11 a. m. The sermon topic will be "I Believe in the Life Everlasting." The Rev. Billy V. Vestal will conduct the order of worship. Nursery available on Easter Sunday for pre-school children.

Lab Tests Into Computer

NEW YORK (AP)—An extensive computer system is being developed to keep tabs on clinical laboratory tests and other medical records for five Catholic hospitals in Brooklyn, as part of a new $60 million medical center.

Report Cartel Corner on Drug To Rig Price

WASHINGTON (AP)—An international cartel — using quinine it bought from the U.S. government for about 21 cents an ounce — has rigged prices and resold the drug in America and elsewhere at nearly 10 times that price, says a Senate probe.

Dr. John M. Blair, the investigator, told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee Wednesday the cartel was able to dominate prices of quinine and a derivative used to treat heart disease because it purchased more than four-fifths of the quinine released from the U.S. stockpile during 1961-64.

The sales by the General Services Administration were halted in anticipation the U.S. would need quinine, and the derivative, quinidine, for the Vietnam war.

Blair, the subcommittee's chief economist, said once the stockpile sales were halted the price of quinine — a drug vital to treatment of some 250,000 U.S. heart patients — rose sharply in the United States.

The heart drug now costs an average of $10.50 for 100 tablets. The price before 1964 ranged as low as $2, a subcommittee spokesman said.

Blair said the cartel controlled the sources of quinine and its manufacture, but were afraid release of the U.S. stockpile would shake their control.

Involved in the price rigging scheme, said Blair, were three English firms, two from France, two from West Germany and one from the Netherlands.

The committee has been probing quinine prices for a year.

Hanoi Defends Release of Two Secret Letters

TOKYO (AP)—North Vietnam said today its release of secret letters between President Johnson and President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam was "legitimate and necessary."

The Vietnam News Agency claimed the United States had used Johnson's letter earlier to "make the world's people believe that 'secret contacts' are under way between the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and the United States."

The U. S. State Department said disclosure of the letters Tuesday was "regrettable" since it publicized what was intended as a serious diplomatic effort to end the Vietnam conflict.

VNA said the State Department was regretful because this legitimate act exposed the odious nature of the U.S. position.

In another dispatch, VNA said the conference in Guam showed the "acute inner contradictions" among U.S. officials over Vietnam.

"They could not hide their divergence of views in the assessment of the situation of their aggressive war and in the working out of a new strategy and new tactics that may help bridge the gap which separates them."

Pope Announcement

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will announce next Sunday publication of a major encyclical on poverty and the need for social justice in underdeveloped nations, Vatican sources said today.

These sources said the announcement would be made by the Pontiff in his Easter message to the world after celebrating Easter Mass outdoors in St. Peter's Square. They said the encyclical would be issued Tuesday or Wednesday.

It would be Pope Paul's fifth encyclical in his reign of three and one-half years.

Not a Real Duty

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court has ruled that stooping to pet a kitten falls outside the course of employment. A Cambridge business executive claimed workers' compensation after breaking his arm when he stumbled as he stooped to pet the cat.

Queen Doles Out Coins to Elderly

DURHAM, England (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II gave out gold coins today to 82 old people—41 men and 41 women for each of the 41 years of her life — at Maundy Thursday ceremony in Durham's Norman cathedral.

It was the first time the rite had been held in the north of England since the reign of King Charles I 1623-1649.

The old people, ranging in age from 70 to more than 90, each had to have three qualifications—age, lack of wealth and distinction in voluntary services to his church or community.

World News In Brief

To Nationalize Industry

LONDON (AP)—Britain's iron and steel bill cleared its final parliamentary hurdle Wednesday night, paving the way for the Labor government to nationalize the industry this summer.

Royal assent, the final legislative stage, was given in the House of Lords to the measure for which the Labor government had campaigned in the 1964 and 1966 elections. The Laborites contended the steel industry had failed to modernize and needed reorganization.

A Labor government took over the industry in 1950, but the Conservatives turned it back to private ownership after they returned to power in 1951.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government is paying $1.34 billion for Britain's 14 biggest companies, which produce 90 per cent of the nation's iron and steel. They have an annual capacity of 20 million tons of steel. Another 140 companies, most of them small specialty firms, will remain under private ownership.

No More U.S. Funds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States says it will not make any voluntary contributions toward the U.N. peacekeeping deficit until the Soviet Union and France put up some money.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said the U.N. Special Committee on Peacekeeping Wednesday that many delegates had assured him other major powers would make substantial contributions if the United States did not invoke the charter provision taking the vote in the General Assembly from nations more than two years behind in their assessments.

"It is now for the others to take the initiative by doing their part in the interests of U.N. peacekeeping," Goldberg said.

Search for Huks

MANILA (AP)—More than 3,000 troops are searching for a 10-man Huks assassination squad that police say killed five men and kidnapped two others in the central Luzon province of Pangasinan Monday.

The Huks, terrorist arm of the outlawed Communist party, have been increasingly active recently in Pangasinan. The killings Monday were believed a reprisal for the capture by government forces last week of Dominador Garcia, No. 3 Huks leader in the province.

Tells All About Ursula Andress, Inner Thoughts

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ursula Andress, whose body is a poem, is having a love affair with life. "I would like to be perfect," she said. "I would like to see the whole world, to know everything, to take full advantage of the beauty of the earth."

Little Bear

Ursula — her name means "little bear" — is the Swiss-born miss who stepped to stardom in a tiny bikini as the romantic buddy of James Bond in "Dr. No."

In her latest film, "Casino Royale," based on another Ian Fleming spy tale, Ursula is cast as "the richest woman in the world," a role which appeals to her Swiss sense of thrift and which she would just as soon play in real life.

"I love beautiful things," she said frankly. "If I had a million dollars, I wouldn't be bored in my life. I would buy houses and paintings — and invest the rest, and make it a little more."

The honey-blond actress, who has the kind of shape that haunts the dreams of hermits, doesn't particularly care to be regarded as a sex symbol. According to her studio form sheet, her mathematical measurements are 37-22-35, and in her case figures certainly don't lie.

Only Dressmaker Knows

"I really don't know my dimensions," said Miss Andress. "Only my dressmaker knows them, I suppose. The rest is visual."

Although she has now made 13 pictures, Ursula has no ambition to wind up the dean of the film industry.

"I am a strong person, mentally and physically," she said. "I like to work, and work is good because it helps you to know and enjoy things, and it broadens your mind."

"But if I had enough security, I might want to do other things, such as decorating people's houses, or writing poems or playing the piano."

Ursula is divorced from actor John Derek and has been escorted recently by Jean Paul Belmondo, who also stars in "Casino Royale."

"But I am not engaged," she said. "I am not married. I am simply me. But I can never tell

RETIREE HONORED—Leonard Freer, third from right, was honored Saturday at a retirement dinner held at Tommie's Restaurant. Freer is retiring from Gant Shirt Co., formerly F. Good Friday Service Set at Lomontville

The Lomontville Assembly of God's annual Good Friday service will be held 7:30 p. m.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. William Oliver, instructor at Teen Challenge Institute of Missions. He will present slides of the Holy Land with special emphasis on those places connected with the life and ministry of Christ.

The Lomontville service along with one at Grace Community Church, Lake Katrine, is being backed by the Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association.

The Rev. David O. Stanton, pastor, extends an invitation to the public to attend.

Medicare Can't Do It

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Nancy Kindsater, who presides at the information booth in the new federal office building, said a woman approached her and said, "I'm looking for my sister. She came in here to change her sex."

It turned out the sister had stopped in to get her medicare classification changed from male to female.

"I just want to live as much as I can. I feel I am born too late already. If it were possible I would like to have done everything and known everybody."

Time goes so fast."

Clothing Sought For Hickory Bush Fire Family

Appeals have been made by friends and neighbors of the John Plonski family of Hickory Bush, who lost all of their personal belongings and bedding in a fire that damaged their home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Plonski and their two young daughters escaped injury in the blaze, which started on the second floor. Fire was confined to the upper part of the residence and considerable smoke and water damage resulted in the downstairs rooms. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Rosendale Fire units were credited with preventing more serious damage to the house by their quick response to an alarm. Binnewater fire company later went to the scene.

Clothing and bedding may be left at Ricci's Amoco Gas Station on Route 32, Rosendale. Sizes needed for Plonski—jacket and shirts, large; pants waist 36, length 31 inches; for Mrs. Plonski—dress and skirt size 14, coat 18, blouse 38; for a 5-year-old girl—dress size 6, coat, same size, underclothing size 5, socks size 7, shoes 11 size; for the other girl, 36 month size, and shoes 4½.

Both girls need beds and bedding.

Parley on Aiding Poor of L-A Set At Plush Resort

By KENNETH L. DAVIS

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay. (AP) — This sandy town by the sea — where the wealthy come to gamble, swim and sun — is where President Johnson and other American presidents will meet next month to discuss ways of improving life for the millions of Latin-American poor.

One of the major topics when the presidents meet April 12-14 will be plans for launching a Latin-American common market. In this same town the Alliance for Progress was founded in 1961. Here also in 1962 inter-American foreign ministers expelled Communist Cuba from the Organization of American States.

Meet in Hotel

The presidents will meet in the casino of the Hotel San Rafael, where workmen now are vamping out the roulette and dice tables. The town's other gambling area, preparing for an economic boom of its own.

Once an isolated beach where camels imported from Africa were used to carry goods across the dunes, Punta del Este now is a town of 30,000 which swells to 120,000 during the summer season from December through February — seasons here are the reverse of those in the Northern Hemisphere.

A modern highway links the resort to the Uruguayan capital of Montevideo, a 90-minute drive to the south.

Security also poses a problem. "It's going to be a headache with 21 presidents around," one official said, "but we don't anticipate big trouble."

1,000 Guards

Well over 1,000 men will watch over the presidents, including U.S. Secret Service men, bodyguards of the Latin presidents and military and police units from Uruguay.

The youth organization of Uruguay's Communist party announced in Montevideo it plans a march to Punta del Este during the conference to "demand an end of Yankee aggression to the heroic people of Vietnam."

The Communist party is legal in Uruguay, a democratic, tiny welfare state of 2.6 million people. The Communists polled about six per cent of the total vote in November's elections.

FBI Denies Teacher Espionage

BROCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover has described as baseless scattered charges that the FBI had induced teachers in the State University system to spy on other teachers.

Such charges were leveled March 9 and 10 by teacher groups that claimed teacher-informers sought to observe the political activities and opinions of their colleagues.

"I can assure you unequivocally that such charges are baseless," Hoover wrote Chancellor Samuel B. Gould of the State University and President Albert Brown of the State University College at Brockport.

"They the charges constitute either misfound interpretations or deliberate or malicious falsifications of FBI interests and activities," Hoover said.

The disclosure of the alleged spying was made at Brockport. A similar claim also was made at the State University College at Cortland.

Hoover said he was denying "any and all allegations that the FBI has ever intimidated anyone connected with any institution of learning for any purpose whatsoever."

"At the same time," he said, "I will never permit the FBI to shirk its responsibilities."

Ulster Board Recommends New Voting District

Establishment of a new voting district in the Town of Ulster was discussed Wednesday night at special meeting of the town board.

Presently the fifth voting district registers 1,020 voters. Under the Election Law a district with more than 600 voters registered should be split for convenience to the voters.

The Ulster Town Board recommended that a new voting district, No. 10, be created to make it more convenient for voters of the area.

Under the division the new District 10, will commence at the Kingston city line and run north along the West Shore Railroad tracks in an easterly direction to where it meets Stahlman Place, then west on Stahlman Place to the Esopus Creek and south along the creek to the Kingston-Ulster line. Both sides of Stahlman Place will be in the new 10th district.

The division of the old 5th voting district will now place 580 registered voters in the new 10th district and 440 in the 5th district.

Division of the vote into two districts will prevent congestion at the polls and make it more convenient for the voters in both districts to cast their vote.

Discuss Traffic Count
After taking action on the division of the voting district the Town Board met with the Town of Ulster Planning Board to discuss the traffic count taken in relation to the proposed Arterial Route from Kingston through the Town of Ulster.

The figures were presented for review by the Planning Board and the town's Planning Consultant Emanuel E. Manuel, and other town officials, will meet with the State Department of Public Works in Poughkeepsie and go over the figures and point out the need for a change in the present state's proposed route.

There has been sharp protest over the proposed state plan for the Arterial Highway as it runs through the Town of Ulster. It is charged that the present plan isolates a large portion of the existing shopping center and would tend to lessen the value of other

Shaw Leaves For Hideaway, Is Indicted

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A grand jury has indicted Clay L. Shaw on a charge of "willfully and unlawfully conspiring" to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, headed for a hideaway today on the Mississippi Gulf Coast with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's approval.

Shaw, who retired in October 1965 as managing director of the International Trade Mart here, has been free on $10,000 bond since his arrest March 1.

Will Bypass Jury
The district attorney said earlier he would bypass the grand jury and file a bill of information before bringing Shaw to trial.

Garrison risked a "no true bill" by taking the case before the grand jury. He had already won a ruling from a three-judge state court panel that sufficient evidence was presented at a preliminary hearing to warrant holding Shaw for trial.

However, he still could have filed a bill of information in the case if the grand jury refused to indict Shaw.

By filing a bill of information, the district attorney would have had to divulge specific details of the case. In Louisiana, which patterns its laws on the Napoleonic code of France, a prosecutor has a choice of bringing a man to trial either by a grand jury indictment or a bill of information.

'Willful, Unlawful'
Shaw was charged by the grand jury's true bill with "willfully and unlawfully conspiring with David W. Ferrie, Lee Harvey Oswald and unnamed others to murder John F. Kennedy."

Perry Raymond Russo, 25, star witness for Garrison in last week's emotional court hearing, made a surprise appearance before the grand jury before the announcement of the indictment.

Russo told the three-judge court last week he heard Shaw, Ferrie and Oswald plotting in mid-September 1963 to kill Kennedy. Shaw is the only one of the conspirators named in the indictment still alive.

Gordon Novel, 29, who testified before the grand jury on March 16, was subpoenaed for another appearance today but he turned up in Columbus, Ohio, where he said he did not want to return here without a guarantee of immunity from "harassment."

Knew Two Men
He said he knew Shaw "but not in connection with this." He also said he "indirectly" knew a "David Ferrie," but did not know Russo.

Novel was quoted in Columbus as describing the Garrison investigation as "a fraud" and that he first helped the district attorney but "Garrison double-crossed me."

Previously he had told a newsman here he thought Garrison wanted to question him about activities "during 1961 which are related to Mr. Sergio Arcacha Smith."

Arcacha, now a Dallas resident, said he never heard of Novel. Arcacha headed an anti-Castro group here in 1961 which had offices in a small cannery building about five blocks from Canal Street. Some of the anti-Castro Fair Play for Cuba Committee members were Lee Harvey Oswald here in August 1963 had the same address.

property for commercial or industrial purposes.

At the conference in Poughkeepsie the need for a change in the present route will be pointed out by the town officials and suggestions will be made based on the traffic count.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rose vigorously today in response to the spreading reduction in the prime interest rate by major banks—the rate charged to their biggest and best customers.

Prices advanced on a broad front and the industrial average showed a good gain but not unusually large.

Advances of most key stocks ranged from fractions to a point. Among higher priced issues, Du Pont rose about 2 and Xerox 3.

The rally actually began on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange late Wednesday after the New York market closed when Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. announced it was cutting its prime rate and the rate for brokers' loans.

A higher trend prevailed among steels, motors, rubbers, chemicals, rails, oils, utilities, airlines and aerospace issues.

AVCO was heavily traded but off slightly. Crescent Corp. lost 2. Lanvin Preferred rose more than a point.

Up about a point were Alcoa, Anaconda, Phelps Dodge, Polaroid, U.S. Smelting and United Al. Lines.

Of blocks of 10,000 shares each, ITE Circuit Breaker dipped to 4½ and Brunswick rose ¼ to 13½.

Wednesday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at 223.1.

will be uniform throughout the county, the report pointed out.

In his discussion of the plan Kulis said it had been found that some 400 properties out of every 10,000 in a county where a survey had been made, were not on the assessment roll. By adding these properties to the tax roll, there was a very considerable increase in tax revenue which would go a long way toward the cost of installation of the system.

Maintenance of the tax map system would require the addition of from three to four persons to the clerk's staff, who would keep the maps up to date.

While this would be an increase in cost to the county, it is estimated that the county should take in an additional $60,000 annually through fees.

To Fix Value
Speaking on the tax equalization program Jacobson of Allied Appraisals Company, explained that his firm would make an inspection of every building in the county, both inside and outside, and then fix a market value on the premises. This would require an analysis of sales in the area to get a market value.

The survey would be similar to that which was conducted in Kingston several years ago when an out-of-city independent firm reappraised all property in the city for assessment purposes.

While the firm makes an appraisal on a 100 per cent value basis, the county may set its own equalization rate. However, the rate would be the same throughout the county, giving all property an equalized rate for all tax purposes. The reappraisal would take from a year to a year and a half to complete.

Among the questions raised was that of appraisal of farm properties. Supervisor Franklin S. Kelder (R) Rochester, inquired how farm property was appraised and what would happen to adjoining farm land should a farm in the area be devoted to development or subdivision for housing.

Higher Value
The answer was that if the farm land was near a built-up area and the farm land was being held for higher prices because of that, the farm property would be assessed at an increased value but if the farm land was not in the suburban area it would be assessed as farm land, the purpose for which it was being used. It was explained that the state requires land to be appraised according to market value. Should a farm be sold for development in an area the assessment would be upped.

Speed in accepting the survey was urged since aerial surveys are best conducted when there are no leaves on trees and division lines are conspicuous. The survey must be made after the snow clears.

Since there is no provision in the 1967 county budget for payment of the survey, American Air Surveys has submitted its bid with a proviso that the county will not be obligated to pay until the money is made available in next year's budget.

In closing Jacobson said his firm could inspect and appraise 20 houses a day where tax maps existed but only from eight to

To Tighten Reserve or Guard Entry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Draft-age men soon will have a tougher time getting into Reserve and National Guard units.

The Defense Department, acting on instructions from President Johnson, ordered Wednesday that beginning May 1, Reserve units must give enlistment priority to men below draft age.

Volunteers other than those in the younger group—ages 17 to 18½—are to be accepted only as needed to fill specific unit vacancies.

Defense officials emphasized, however, that all reservists in good standing are deferred from the draft and the new policy won't affect that.

Defense officials don't know how many future Reserve enlistments will come from the younger group. But one guessed it would be a major factor.

As the Vietnam war has escalated, many Reserve units have developed long waiting lists. Because no Reserve units have been activated during the buildup, the Reserve system has been criticized as a haven for draft-dodgers.

Grossman said that originally the company "put down its roots" in Quincy, Mass., before the turn of the century. A peddler's route started by immigrant Louis Grossman, company founder, gradually expanded into a building materials business with home deliveries via horse and wagon, and eventually resulted in the opening of Grossman's first store.

As the late founder's four sons entered the business in their teens, retailing accelerated, and the firm branched out in other directions including Grossman Industrial Properties, and the Surplus and Grossman Homes Divisions.

Expansion of the widely known company continues under the expert leadership of seven third generation Grossmans in active management.

Employs About 1,600
Grossman noted that in the early 1920's the slogan "Here Comes Grossman's" began making its appearance on distinctive orange and black lumber trucks traveling New England highways, and now becoming a familiar sight in New York and Pennsylvania.

Today, there are 55 stores in the chain that is serviced by a fleet of more than 400 trucks and other vehicles. About 1,600 employees from Eastport, Me., to Reading, Pa., are on the company's payroll.

Grady also charged the Ulster County Board of Supervisors with taking a "hands off" attitude on the bridge. "I guess they just want to forget about Perrine's Bridge," Grady said.

According to Grady the public has not forgotten the bridge. He said he received a donation of $100 from the Goddard-Riverside Society of New York City last Saturday and that another $100 was received from a private citizen in New Paltz.

Clifford Henze, vice-president of the Kingston Savings Bank, treasurer of the Perrine's Bridge Committee, said that fund drives would have to wait until the committee, is properly organized legally. "We have our incorporation now, he said, but we still have to draw up a set of by-laws and a list of officers. It's very important to get this organization on a firm footing."

The committee has set a goal of $45,000 to be raised to save the bridge.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The National Farmers Organization's milk - holding action entered its second week today, with a report from one dairy official that the tactic "has not been felt" in this state.

Wednesday night, however, a spokesman for the NFO in Jefferson County claimed that 21 tons of milk were spread over a farm field in Adams, just south of Watertown. The spokesman said that the milk was contributed by 12 area dairy farmers and that the dumping was watched by about 100 persons. Since the action was called last Wednesday, the organization claims that at least 32 million pounds of milk have been withheld in the state.

In New York City, an official of the Metropolitan Dairy Institute said that the holdout's effect in the city "is virtually

Lulu Back In Town, Solons Say

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democratic and Republican leaders of the Legislature have decided to continue the higher, $3,000 "lulu" — expense allowance — voted for rank-and-file lawmakers last year. The Associated Press learned today.

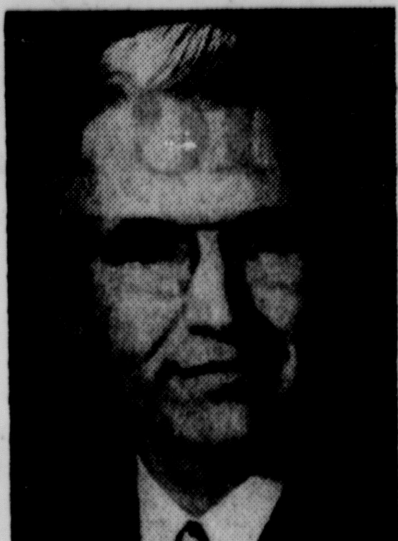

Earlier in the session, leaders of both parties said they were considering replacing the much-criticized "lulu" with a per-diem allowance system for expenses. But, with the 1967 session entering its closing stages, Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia said he had decided that each member of his house should be given the same $3,000 payment voted in 1966.

Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges said that, while he still favored changing to another system, he would go along with Travia.

The unshot is that each of the 150 assemblymen and 57 senators will be paid the $3,000 allowance when the session adjourns. This will be in addition to the $15,000 annual salary each of them draws.

CHARLES R. STARK

National Chamber Names Manager

Appointment of Charles R. Stark as manager of the Northeastern Division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was announced today by Arch N. Booth, executive vice president of the National Chamber.

Stark will replace Truman D. Weller, present manager of the 10-state Northeastern Division, who retired. On March 17 after 26 years of service with the National Chamber.

Stark has, for the last year and a half, been district manager in the Northeastern Division, covering the Metropolitan New York District. Prior to that, he was a district manager for Northern California in the National Chamber's Western Division.

Stark has a total of 26 years of experience in Chamber of Commerce activities, including 21 years with local Chambers of Commerce. He has served as manager in Chambers of Commerce in Idaho Falls, Idaho; Ogden, Utah; Klamath Falls, Oregon; and Nampa, Idaho.

Stark has served on the faculty and Board of Regents of the National Chamber's Institute for Organization Management for 15 years. In addition to completing separate three-year Institute courses in Principles of Management and Advanced Management Studies, Stark has completed the

RV Rescue Squad Plea for Members

An urgent plea for new members was sounded today by officials of the Rondout Valley First Aid and Rescue Squad.

"We still need more members and more help," an official said referring to recent news reports that some ambulance services for the county are being disbanded.

"With a rapidly growing community the need for more Squad members grows as well," the spokesman added.

He stressed that prospective members must be 21 years of age or older and need not have knowledge of first aid training. "The Squad has instructors for this purpose," it was pointed out, "who are willing to give the necessary first aid training courses. Day or night duty will be set for the convenience of members although day time crews are the primary need at present."

Announcement also was made today that the recent spaghetti dinner was a success and officials went on record extending appreciation to those patrons.

The RV Rescue Squad meets the first and third Monday of the month at the Squad building, High Falls at 8 p. m. Meetings of the Auxiliary have not been set as yet.

Milk Rift Activities

CHICAGO (AP) — Dynamite blasts, rifle fire, marches, dumpings, milk baths and washing cars with milk highlighted efforts of a week-long campaign by the National Farmers Organization to raise the price of milk.

Despite violence and the shenanigans, including farmers' wives bathing in milk, there was no significant evidence of price hikes or milk shortages in affected areas.

Giveaway Gimmick

In some instances, the NFO bought up supplies of milk in supermarkets, then gave the milk away with declarations that "we'd rather give it away than sell it."

Reports from around the country indicated the NFO got a two-cent per quart price increase.

Milk was being dumped on a grand scale throughout the country.

Wreck Tanker

At Chapel Hill, Tenn., an explosion wrecked a 33,000-gallon milk tanker which was parked and empty. A bullet from a high-powered rifle punctured a 4,000-gallon tanker en route from Lafayette to Nashville with milk.

Farmers, their wives and children marched on the state house in Trenton, N. J. All seemed assured the march would have some effect on consumers.

"You can't throw a million gallons down the drain a day and say you're not affected," a farmer shouted from the steps of the New Jersey Capitol.

Temple Emanuel

Purim Family Sabbath services will be conducted by Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn Friday 7:45 p. m. at Temple Emanuel. Rabbi Eichhorn will preach on What Purim Means Today. Parents will bring their children for the holiday service.

During the memorial service the memories of the following persons will be invoked: William Ewigkeit, Hannah Raufberg and Herbert Wolff. After services Temple Sisterhood will sponsor Oneg Shabbat.

Because of the public school vacation, there will be no religious school for the next two weeks. Hebrew classes will resume Monday, April 3, and religious school classes Saturday, April 8.

Members of the Temple youth group will be attending a convocation this weekend at Newburgh's Temple Beth Jacob. Rabbi Eichhorn will be a discussion group leader at study sessions.

Religious School Purim party Sunday 12:30 p. m. will feature reading of the Megillah, lunch and entertainment.

Rabbi Eichhorn will lead a discussion on The Morality of the War in Vietnam at the monthly Brotherhood meeting Monday 8 p. m. Nominations for next year's officers will be made.

Adult study group will meet Tuesday 8 p. m. Rabbi Eichhorn will conclude his discussion of Islam and spend most of the session discussing religion of Bahai. Anyone interested may attend.

Rabbi Eichhorn will give a lecture March 30 at Temple Beth Jacob, Newburgh, on Priest and Prophet—A Jewish Controversy.

Ahavah Israel

Religious services are held at Congregation Ahavah Israel every Friday evening at 8 o'clock, every Saturday at 9:30 a. m. and at sundown, and every Sunday at 10 a. m. and at sundown. Junior congregation meets every Saturday morning for religious services for all boys and girls in the Children's Chapel at 11 o'clock.

This Friday 8 p. m. the services will be devoted to the Purim preparation, and Rabbi Harry Z. Schechtman will speak on A Purim Theme. The liturgy will be chanted by Cantor L. Larry Jacobs. The refreshments at the Oneg Shabbat will be hosted by Mrs. Max Eckdich and Mrs. Max Millens, under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. Larry Jacobs. The names of those whose yahrtzeiten will be observed this week will be read and memorialized by Rabbi Schechtman.

Saturday morning the Bible reading will include an additional portion to the regular reading called Zochor, and the Sabbath is called Shabos Zochor, when the words, Remember what the Amalekites did unto you when you went out of Egypt, are read. The word, Zochor, means remember. This reading is according to custom used on the Sabbath before the Festival of Purim.

Saturday night the Festival of Purim will begin with the reading of the Megillah, the Book of Esther, in the main synagogue, at 7 p. m. All adults and children must observe this reading. Noisemakers and refreshments will be provided. Sunday morning at 10:30, Purim masquerades, parties and celebrations will be the order of the day. The USY will present a play for the children, and in the afternoon, the USY will serve different foods for the Purim lunch.

Say Solons Gave Bribe Offer Word

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two newspaper reporters told a grand jury Wednesday that more than one state legislator had confided to newsmen that they were offered bribes to vote for a bill to legalize casino gambling in Hot Springs, Ark.

The newsmen refused to identify the lawmakers and were jailed for contempt by Circuit Court Judge William J. Kirby.

The Pulaski County Grand Jury subpoenaed five newsmen as it continued its investigation of alleged bribes surrounding the bill.

State Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock told reporters March 7 that he was offered "10 bills" to vote for the gambling measure.

Soviet Fishing Vessel in Tow After Violation

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A Soviet fishing vessel — the second to be accused this month of violating U.S. rights in Alaskan waters — was being towed toward Kodiak today by a Coast Guard cutter.

Capt. Robert Emerson, commander of the Coast Guard station at Kodiak, said the Soviet skipper refused to follow the cutter's orders to port so the vessel was taken under tow. If the Soviet changes his mind and proceeds under his own power the vessels could arrive by late afternoon. The tow would take nearly two days.

The 178-foot trawler, SRTM 8-457, was located south of the Shumagin Islands Wednesday after a Coast Guard aircraft had engaged in "hot pursuit" of the vessel for 10 miles.

The Coast Guard said the aircraft, on routine law-enforcement patrol, spotted the trawler fishing 5.5 miles east of Seal Cape in the Shumagins, a violation of the U.S. 12-mile exclusive fisheries zone which went into effect March 17.

The aircraft signaled the ship to heave-to and await arrival of a government ship. Instead, the trawler picked up her fishing gear and headed toward international waters. The Storis overtook the ship 15 miles off shore.

The scene was about 100 miles southwest of the spot the Soviet trawler SRTM 8-413 was seized March 2 for violation of the three-mile territorial limit at Mitrofan Island, some 40 miles southwest of Chignik on the Alaska Peninsula.

Fined $5,000
Nicolai G. Zernov skipper of that vessel, was fined $5,000, an amount Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel called "measly."

The latest incident, Gov. Hickel said, is strictly a federal problem because the Soviet ship was not accused of violating the three-mile territorial limit.

The maximum penalty would be a $10,000 fine and one year in prison for each person aboard. Soviet trawlers usually carry a crew of 25-30. The vessel is also subject to seizure, forfeiture of cargo and any fish taken in violation of law.

The governor of the Panama Canal Zone is an officer of the U. S. Army, appointed by the president.

GOP Willing

Travia Balks on N. Y. Aid

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and the Legislature's Republican leaders were reported ready today to help New York City financially by approving a higher statewide liquor tax, but Democrats balked at the idea.

Willing on Liquor

The Republican governor, Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges and Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Durvae Jr. were said to be willing to raise the state tax on a fifth of liquor by perhaps 45 cents beyond the current 50-cent level.

But Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, the Legislature Democratic strongman, refused to go along.

"I'm against it," Travia told The Associated Press. "in any amount."

Moreover, Senate minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki has privately informed Rockefeller and Brydges he has no Democratic votes in his contingent—most of whom live in New York City.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay is pressing the lawmakers for approval of a 50-cent-a-fifth liquor tax as part of his bid to balance his 1967-68 city budget, estimated to total $5 billion.

The high-level disagreement on the liquor-tax proposal captured most of the attention at the Capitol today.

Lindsay Mildly Happy

When Lindsay left Albany Wednesday after making his third personal plea for help from the Legislature he was known to be mildly happy.

The reason is that Rockefeller and the GOP leaders were said to be coming to the view that it would be better to act now rather than to impose taxes next year—an election year for the Legislature.

Lindsay's fiscal experts contend that a 50-cent liquor tax would give their city an extra $90 million a year.

In addition, the mayor was virtually assured of obtaining the four extra state lotteries he seeks. New York State is preparing to conduct at least four "horsebow" lotteries, and Lindsay says four extra drawings would yield New York City another $20 million.

As No Other Democrat

Bobby's Barbs Bring Rocky Out Swinging

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy apparently can get under Gov. Rockefeller's skin as no other Democrat can.

While the Republican governor is inclined to shrug away criticism from other sources, let Kennedy utter one negative comment and Rockefeller comes out of his corner swinging.

Recent Illustration
This was illustrated again in the heated exchange between the two political figures over Rockefeller's plan for expanding electric-power facilities in the state.

The proposal had been battered from pillar to post by Democratic lawmakers during a Senate debate last week. They used strong language — like "power grab" and "a steal" — but Rockefeller never batted an eyelash. A few days later Kennedy weighed in with his own critique, and the governor roared back in outrage.

Before the ink was dry on Kennedy news stories, Rockefeller issued a short blast calling the senator's statement "a phony and a hoax."

Repeats 'Phony' Phrase
Not content with this Rockefeller followed with a long statement setting forth 14 points in rebuttal and repeating the "phony and a hoax" phrase.

Aides reported the governor was hopping made. He instructed them to dig deeper into the issue and prepare another salvo, in case Kennedy should stick his head up over the trenches again. The Rockefeller reaction followed a predictable pattern, first established about a year and a half ago when Kennedy criticized his administration's operation of schools for the mentally retarded. Rockefeller landed all over Kennedy for those comments and kept up a running counterattack for nearly six months. For a while, it seemed as though his rebuttal would never end.

In the interval, various other high-ranking Democrats have sailed into the governor. The party's legislative leaders, Anthony J. Travia and Joseph Zaretski, knock him around occasionally. So does State Chairman John J. Burns and Comptroller Arthur Levitt. But Rockefeller usually ignores them.

Why do Kennedy's barbs penetrate when the others' do not? Those close to the governor say he reacts so sharply for three reasons:

Cite Three Factors
— First, he regards Kennedy as a particularly dangerous political foe because of the full attention he commands from news media and the public at large.
— Second, the governor believes that any Kennedy criticism has the underlying motive of attempting to discredit him personally, rather than merely seeking remedial action.
— Third, while Rockefeller has developed a friendly regard for many other Democratic leaders, he has shown little enthusiasm for the Kennedy personality.

All of these factors conspire to set Rockefeller's teeth on edge when Kennedy essays and sort of critique on an enterprise that bears the Rockefeller stamp.

Note Polite Judges

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — 3rd District Court Judge Stewart Hanson had his ruling on who could sign criminal complaints appealed to the Utah Supreme Court.

So he accompanied the case file with a memorandum: "If I am wrong, kindly reverse me."

By a 3-2 decision, the justices issued this brief: "In conformity with this request, the order of dismissal is therefore 'kindly reversed.'"

Seals Campaign Draws to Close; Aids Handicapped

The Golden Age Club of Kingston YWCA assisted in tabulating returns from the 46th annual Easter Seals Appeal for the Association for Crippled Children and Adults.

Working on the project under the chairmanship of Mrs. Elga Curtis were John McCreery, Mrs. Emma Vanderhoof, Mrs. Claire V. Doyle, Mrs. Anna Singler, Mrs. Rachel Neice, Mrs. Vivian Smith, Miss Marie Masterson and the Misses Lucy and Elizabeth Hazzard.

Easter Seal services in New York State reached 11,699 physically handicapped children and adults. Sixteen different camps for handicapped provided summer recreation for 1031 young people and from Ulster County three youngsters received campships at Camp Jened in Hunter. The society also largely supports the speech and hearing center in St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie where 46 Ulster County residents received assistance. Other activities in the state include the Easter Seal Home Service in New York City where trained volunteers visit the homebound severely handicapped to provide companionship and recreation as well as a monthly publication to which they contribute art work, stories and poetry.

Launch Pilot Project
Since pre-school programs do not often accept handicapped children, the society has provided complete support for the establishment and operation of a kindergarten in the Cerebral Palsy and Handicapped Children's Association of Southern New York in Binghamton. This is a pilot project where a skilled nursery school teacher trains the children to "graduate" into public school.

The nationwide Architectural Barriers Project, initiated by the National Easter Seal Society and the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped is directed toward eliminating features in the construction of public buildings which make it difficult or impossible for the handicapped to enter or function within them. Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller has endorsed this project and much progress has been made.

Provides Information
Another important aspect of the society is the information and referral service which last

Bordering States Act, Curb Lake Polluting

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Five states bordering Lake Erie plan to have the treatment facilities needed to curb lake pollution in operation by the middle of 1971 at the latest, a federal official says.

Agreement on the timetable for completion of the construction of the plants was reached Wednesday during a meeting here of representatives of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Michigan and Indiana. Murray Stein, an officer of the Department of Interior's federal water pollution control program, said. The meeting was the third in a series held over the last two years assisted 1,120 persons. Residents of New York State are extremely fortunate in having a multitude of health and welfare services which are available but in many instances those who might benefit do not always know where to find them. Inquiries may be directed to Robert C. Murray, treasurer, State of New York National Bank, Kingston, 12401 or to Larry V. Bogert, 79 Maiden Lane, Kingston.

This year's campaign, now drawing to a close, has been supported by the Rotary Clubs of Saugerties, Woodstock, Phoenicia and Kingston as well as the Interact Clubs of the Saugerties High School and Kingston High School. Members of these clubs have placed the coin containers in business establishments throughout the county.

Endorse Rules
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republican delegates to the State Constitutional Convention have approved unanimously a set of rules endorsed earlier by Democrats for convention procedures.

The 19 rules provide for 15 committees and a timetable for the submission of proposals and committee action on them.
Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brdges, who will be the convention's GOP minority leader, said Wednesday the 49 rules also adopted a three-point program of convention guidelines. They are that:
— The convention should be "open and unfettered."
— "Issues on which the convention is narrowly divided" should be submitted to the electorate separately, rather than lumping them with widely accepted changes.
— The convention should develop "a clear and concise" constitution, but the GOP "will resist deletion of fundamental protections for the people" that have proven effective over the years.

Amherst GI Dead Of Wounds in Viet

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 21-year-old Army man is dead of wounds suffered in South Vietnam fighting near An Khe.

Snee, George B. Ross Jr., was felled Monday by small arms fire while on a combat patrol. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Ross Sr. of suburban Amherst, his parents, said Wednesday.

The younger Ross had been a member of the Army's Special Forces, but transferred to the 1st Cavalry Division when he volunteered for Vietnam service.

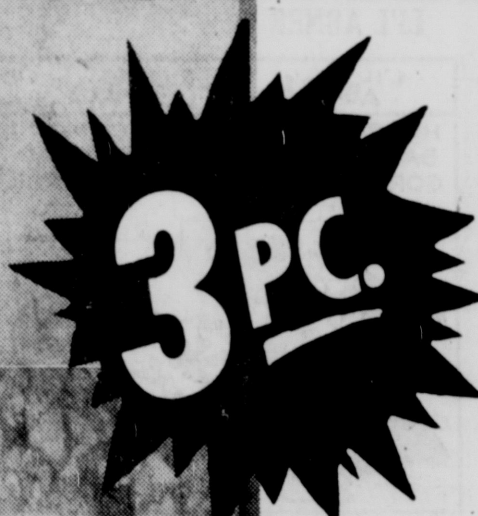

Ross enlisted in October 1965 and had served in Vietnam since last June. Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters, a brother, a grandmother and a grandfather. The parents' address is 6 Lyman Road.

A young man dashed into the electrician's shop, his face flushed with anger.
Mr. Smith — Didn't I ask you yesterday morning to send a man to mend our doorbell? and did you not promise to send him around at once?
Mr. Jones (the manager) — But we did, sir. I'm quite sure of it! Hi Bill! (he called to one of his workmen at the back of the office.) Didn't you go around to Park Lodge yesterday to do that job?
Bill — Yes sir. I went 'round all right, and I rang the bell for over 10 minutes, but I couldn't get no answer, so I guessed they must not be at home.
More people in the United States might live within their means if the government would set them a better example.
A young father was pushing a baby carriage in which an infant was screaming. Wheeling the howling baby along, he kept muttering:
Young Mr. Brown — Easy now, Donald. Keep calm, Donald. Steady boy. It's all right, Donald.
A mother passing by said, Mrs. Green — You certainly know how to talk to an upset child—quietly and gently.
Leaning over the carriage, she said,
Mrs. Green — What seems to be the trouble, Donald?
Young Mr. Brown — Oh, no. He's Henry. I'm Donald.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

In 1964, 14-year-old Leonore Modell of the United States became the youngest person ever to swim the English Channel. Her time for the 20-mile swim from Cape Griz Nez, France, to Dover, England, was 15 hours 27 minutes, says The World Almanac. The first person ever to swim the channel was Capt. Matthew Webb of Great Britain in 1875. His time from Dover to Calais, France, was 21 hours and 45 minutes.

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise:

I am an interior decorator. When I take draperies down for cleaning, I mark on the inside heading of each drapery: "window No. 1 right, No. 1 left," etc., with an indelible ballpoint pen.

As I take the drapery pins out I use the ballpoint pen to put a dot where each pin will be reinserted. The ballpoint pen mark does not come out in the cleaning.

When rehanging the draperies, I start in the center of the traverse rod, hooking onto the master carrier first. If extra carriers are on the rod, leave them at the outside ends of the rod or the draperies will not slide easily.

These rules will save housewives a lot of hard work. Reta Williams

Be sure and make these marks on the inside heading of the facing on the top of your curtain so it won't show when rehanging. I roared with laughter when Reta told us there was a way for ballpoint-pen ink, which we don't have to worry about removing.

And, did you know that while your curtains are down and being cleaned, you could use paste wax inside those traverse rods? It will make them slide like new again.

Dear Heloise:

Here's an idea I find both economical and time saving.

When making bread or rolls, instead of scalding the milk in a pan, just add boiling water to your powered milk for the liquid.

The milk never boils over on the stove this way as it sometimes does when scalding it. Delaine Kolb

Dear Heloise:

When your rubber girdle has sheet blankets.

a small broken place in it, take two pieces of mending tape, put one on the outside and one on the inside of the break, then sew it on your machine with a zig-zag stitch. It will wear and wear. Jane

What's the matter with a tire patch? They work too, honey chile. Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We have often seen men dust off the toes of their shoes on the back of their pants leg.

Our shoeshine parlor always has strips of men's wool pants cut up to buff those shoes. The wool really makes them shine. So why not cut up some old pieces of wool to shine your shoes? Henry O'Mally

I can't argue with you Henry. Wool did make our shoes shine beautifully but I just wasn't about to cut up a pair of my husband's pants to see if it differed from the scrap of wool I tried.

Thanks, pal. Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I keep a small squeeze bottle filled with liquid laundry detergent beside my washing machine.

When collars and cuffs need to be scrubbed, I just squirt some in the proper place, rub it in a little, and the clothing then goes into the tub.

No more lugging of heavy jugs or boxes that dump out more than we need. Virginia DeArmond

Dear Heloise:

To keep those sheet blankets from sliding, I cut one sheet blanket in three equal pieces crosswise and sew one piece to the end of each of the other sheet blankets.

This makes my sheet blankets plenty-long-enough to tuck under the foot of the mattress, and keeps them from sliding and pulling out at the foot. Really great. Mrs. R. L. Estes

Dear Heloise:

When planting grass seed by hand, I always mix the seed with a bit of kitchen flour. This way I can see where I have thrown the seed and I can sow it far more evenly.

The flour does not hurt the soil at all. Sol Weinstein

Congress Pressured On Private Funds

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As was bound to happen eventually to any bundle of money weighing $90 billion, the nation's private pension systems are coming under increasing scrutiny from Congress.

As a result, everyone from unions to the National Association of Manufacturers is betting that these funds, now largely unregulated, will come under more and more federal control.

The consensus ends abruptly, however. Some critics feel regulation is needed to prevent abuses that almost certainly coexist with such sizable funds. Others view control as more welfareism.

From Various Sources
Congress' interest, as represented in bills introduced into both houses, is in setting minimum standards for the operation of these funds and with establishing governmental control so that the standards are enforced.

This pressure on Congress comes from various sources, including President Johnson, who feels these pension systems have grown to such an enormous size that the interests of workers must be protected.

As of now, the reserve funds of these private systems — trusted by unions, corporations, life insurance companies, banks — total four times those of the Social Security system, which has reserves of $22 billion.

Total Growing Swiftly
The pensions total is growing swiftly, having swelled from almost nothing in the early 1940s and having nearly tripled in the past 10 years or so. By 1970 it certainly will exceed $100 billion.

These private funds already receive incomes from their investments of $8 billion a year and pay out more than $3 billion to some three million beneficiaries.

Where is this money being invested?
—Is the system properly funded so as to insure each member the retirement pay he is promised?
—Should individual funds be tax exempt?

One measure sought by legislation is to make trustees and managers responsible under federal law should they be negligent in the investment of money they receive.

"The game is politics and the stake is everybody's future," says the NAM.

As viewed by that organization, the present federal interest in the private plans is tied into a desire to "integrate" these systems into Social Security.

In turn, the NAM feels, Social Security may become the substitute for welfare, which reportedly has acquired a bad image and needs a new name.

Typical Questions
The questions now being asked as a guide to regulation are such as these:

However, these figures raise as much suspicion as praise. Too little is known of their significance because of a near absence of regulation, the stiffest federal requirement being the filing of an annual report.

This in effect makes the funds the greatest unregulated financial institution in the nation. And not only do they represent the security of the worker, but they also are a source of corporate financing and they exert an enormous influence on the price of stocks.

—Is the system properly funded so as to insure each member the retirement pay he is promised?
—Should individual funds be tax exempt?

One measure sought by legislation is to make trustees and managers responsible under federal law should they be negligent in the investment of money they receive.

"The game is politics and the stake is everybody's future," says the NAM.

As viewed by that organization, the present federal interest in the private plans is tied into a desire to "integrate" these systems into Social Security.

In turn, the NAM feels, Social Security may become the substitute for welfare, which reportedly has acquired a bad image and needs a new name.

Mayor Issues Good Friday Proclamation

Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan today issued a proclamation in behalf of a solemn observance of Good Friday.

It is, he said, "a day of solemn prayer and rededication, especially in these times when all of us are more conscious of the everlasting debt we owe to our Creator."

He asked all to "reverently observe" the day "particularly between noon and 3 p. m., with meditation in church or chapel."

He asked for the cooperation of business and industry to permit employees "to participate in this meditation during some part of these solemn hours."

Hadassah Launches Several Projects

Kingston Chapter of Hadassah has inaugurated its annual series of projects in behalf of Hadassah Medical Organization, according to Mrs. Arthur Landesman, president.

Now in progress is work on the annual HMO advertising page to be published in The Kingston Daily Freeman April 8. Mrs. Arthur Motzkin is in charge of the project; deadline for ads is April 1.

A fabulous "Stockorama" is another HMO project, with shares of American Telephone and Telegraph stock to be awarded. Mrs. Robert S. Yallum is chairman.

Members may earn donor credit through the "New and Neatly New" shop to be open April 10-14, with the Mmes Harold Newman and Charles Jacobs in charge.

Another annual even, "Eye Bank Day," is slated, with Mrs. Sidney Halpern as chairman. All members interested in working on this project should contact the chairman.

Donor activities are climaxed with the annual "Day at the Neville," to be held at the Ellenville resort on June 4. Members who have helped raise the chapter's HMO quotas and their escorts are Hadassah's guests for the day. Mrs. George Starkman is donor treasurer for the Kingston chapter.

OBSERVING SECRETARIES WEEK — The Secretaries Week Committee for the Colonial Valley Chapter of National Secretaries Association (International) met at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Monday, March 20 to make plans for the celebration of National Secretaries Week, April 24-29. Climax of the week will be a dinner on Wednesday, April 26 at the Governor Clinton Hotel. In the group planning for the occasion are (l-r) Mrs. Bea Edwards, Mrs. Elsie Secor, Mrs. Helen Kelly, Mrs. Anne Sheeley and Mrs. Gloria Starling. Mrs. Kelly is committee chairman and other members of the committee include Miss Lillian Styles and Miss Blanche Carter. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Sisterhood Lists Spring Activities

Mrs. Seymour Semiloff, president of Sisterhood Ahavath Israel, has announced a schedule of activities for the Spring season. Everyone is welcome to attend all functions, it is not necessary to be a member. Activities are listed as follows:

Thursday, March 23 — Bus trip to Jewish Theological Seminary and Museum, leaving Synagogue parking lot 9 a. m., returning at 5 p. m. Lunch at Seminary at own expense. Guided tour with special reduced rates for children. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Stephen Feldman or Mrs. Seymour Semiloff.

Sunday, March 26 — A Purim party, arranged by Mrs. William Helmrich and her committee, 10:30 a. m. to noon. All children are invited to come in costume and compete for awards. USY will present a program, including a skit, songs and dances. Luncheon will be served in the social hall, all proceeds to send local delegates to USY Regional Convention at Gibber's Hotel, Fallsburgh, N. Y. April 14 thru 16th.

Advisors are Mrs. Sidney Rafalowsky and Mrs. Alan Busch. Sunday April 2 — Passover Institute in the social hall for entire family, featuring a display of ceremonial objects from the Gift Shop. Distribution of menus and instructions by the Rabbi on preparation for the holiday. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Stephen Feldman will be in charge. This is an educational program. The community is invited at 7:30.

At the March 8 meeting of the Sisterhood, Mrs. David Weinstein reported that order forms have been mailed to all members and friends for Passover products. The Sisterhood and United Synagogue Youth will benefit from these sales. All orders and remittances should be returned to Mrs. Weinstein or Mrs. Sidney Rafalowsky by April 1.

Mrs. Norman Kestin reported that the Book Shop and Library is now open with a full line of adult and children's books on Purim and Passover.

Mrs. Murray Greene announced that all donor project books should be turned in to her by April 1 if donor credit is to be received for the donor affair at the Granit Hotel April 15. Reservations can be made with Mrs. Greene or Mrs. Joseph Horowitz.

The program, arranged by Social Action Chairman, Mrs. Albert Tannin, introduced S. James Mathews and H. Clark Bell, candidates to the Constitutional Convention who discussed the Blaine Amendment and the issue of state aid to parochial and private schools. Mrs. Irving Harris and Mrs. Tannin, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters explained the history of the constitution and the need for the convention. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Irving Wilpan and her committee.

Marbletown Legion Post Plans Saturday Dance

The Marbletown American Legion Post 1512 will sponsor a dance Saturday, March 25 in Stone Ridge.

The dance theme will be in keeping with the recent St. Patrick's Day. Tom Filocco and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. George Shea is committee chairman, assisted by Frank Burke, Marion Ostrander, Joseph Greenberg, Fred Barta and Harold Bernstein.

Tickets will be available at the door.

PURIM PARTY IS PLANNED — United Synagogue Youth will give a skit and a program of songs and dances at a children's Purim Party planned for Sunday, March 26 in the social hall of Congregation Ahavath Israel, Lucas Avenue, Kingston. The program will be given from 10:30 a. m. to noon. All proceeds will be used for the

Valedictorian, Salutatorian Selected For New Paltz Central Class of 1967

John Frampton and Kathleen McGrath have been named as the Valedictorian and Salutatorian, respectively, of the Class of 1967 of New Paltz Central School.

They were afforded these honors as a result of having compiled the two highest averages for the first 3 1/2 years of high school preparation. Frampton, the Valedictorian, in addition to his outstanding academic achievements has also been active in many varied extracurricular activities which include: Track, cross-country, basketball and intramurals. He also is a member of the French Club, Senior Seminar, and is now President of the New Paltz Chapter of the National Honor Society. Frampton is a recipient of a New York State Regents Scholarship. Next year he will attend either Yale or Cornell. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Frampton, Chodkee Lake Road, Highland.

Mrs. McGrath was the representative of the local American Legion Auxiliary at last year's Girls' state. She is vice president of the Library Assistants Club, treasurer of the Girls Athletic Association Council, business manager of the Yearbook and a member of the New Paltz Chapter of the National Honor Society. She is also a winner of a New York State Regents Scholarship. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McGrath, Ohioville Road, New Paltz. Next year Miss McGrath will attend the State University College as Oswego.

Named Top Graduates at Onteora High

NANCY SWINDLER

CYNTHIA SCHREINER

Miss Nancy Swindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Swindler of West Hurley, New York, earned the distinction of being named valedictorian with an academic average of 93.187.

Miss Swindler transferred to Onteora from Amherst Central High School, Snyder, N. Y., in the spring of her junior year. While at Amherst Central, she was active in the school's musical activities, the American Field Service student committee, and was a member of the National French Honor Society. At Onteora, Miss Swindler has been active in various clubs, is a member of the National Honor Society, and participants in the senior seminar.

Miss Swindler has been accepted under the early-decision plan at the State University of New York at Albany and will prepare for the field of medicine.

Miss Cynthia Schreiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egon Schweiner of Lake Hill, New York, is the salutatorian and has a cumulative average of 92.750. Miss Schreiner has won several awards for academic excellence in German, history, and English and has served as secretary for the National Honor Society.

During the past three years she has actively participated in the High School Orchestra and Chorus and has been active in school musical productions. She was the captain of the majorettes and attended the University of Vermont Summer Music Session. Miss Schreiner has participated extensively in all phases of the Girls' Athletic Association program and has won medals in various sports. Miss Schreiner has been accepted at the State University of New York at Albany and will major in the study of foreign languages.

A beautiful wedding is one that is successfully planned. After it is all over, the bride will attest to the fact that a most important help is the cooperation by the shop where she purchased her gown and her attendant's gowns. Also she was secure in the knowledge that her wedding gown was individual as were her attendants, because she was able to select from lots of styles, and thus create her own idea of a wedding party and not just settle for something five other brides had.

It's at DOREEN'S you can achieve an individual look in wedding fashions. Bridals are $50 to $125 and up, and attendant gowns are $25 to $40 and up. Each is fitted to perfection and ready to take home weeks before the wedding, if you so desire.

Orders are not taken unless we can guarantee delivery—and you will find this very important to you, because we have become known for "guaranteed delivery" with "no substitutions" at the last minute.

If you are planning a wedding, our bridal consultant awaits your pleasure and you can count on the complete privacy of a pre-arranged appointment. Tel. 331-6047 day or evening — closed Tuesday. For your convenience we suggest that you use our layaway plan.

Easter Parade

MRS. WILLIAM KRUM of 39 Mary's Avenue, this city, is ready for the Easter parade in a pale pink layered silk organza hat crowned with tinted stephanotis and green leaves. Mrs. Krum, a leading civic leader in the community, is secretary to the City of Kingston Republican Committee and House Committee Chairman for the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club. (Freeman photo by John Kruh)

MISS JOAN WOINOSKI stepped into June Dessler's on Clinton Avenue, Kingston, this week, to try on her original Easter hat. The crystalline ice blue straw features hand tinted flowers of matching ice blue Bouvardia, roses and white lilacs. Miss Woinoski, a member of The Freeman staff, will be a colorful addition to the Easter Parade. (Freeman photo by John Kruh)

GREGORY AND MARY JANE (Mimi) FUENTES of 61 Cedar Street, this city, couldn't resist getting a preview of their Easter finery. Four year old Gregory is all set to escort his two year old sister to the Franklin Street AME Zion Church for Easter services. The children are looking forward to the holidays—and the Easter baskets. Mary Jane is particularly happy because she recovered from a case of chicken pox just in time for the great day. The youngsters are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Fuentes. (Freeman photo by John Kruh)

CONNIE ROSE RADELL is bright and cheerful in her white straw bonnet selected at London's on North Front Street. The four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Radell of Old Flatbush Road, Kingston, is looking forward to the happy Easter holiday. Connie Rose will be sporting a fashion-right navy blue coat for the Easter parade and her mother tells us the youngster will be joining the kindergarten class at Chambers School in the fall. (Freeman photo by John Kruh)

MRS. MARY ZUCCA knows a hat is a most desirable piece of feminine frippery. It puts the finishing touch on any ensemble and she finds, while shopping at Wallace's, that Easter finery includes perky back-of-the-head rollers, broad-brim print hats and the lovely straw which she models for our photographer. Even the girl who goes hatless all year-round would not be seen outdoors without her chapeau on Easter Sunday. We'll be seeing flowers, chiffon, tissue-weight silk, Panama straws, and airy crocheted straws. All types will make the Easter season bright and light. (Freeman photo by John Kruh)

MALE SIDE OF THE EASTER PARADE — While emphasis is always placed upon milady and the Easter Parade, the picture wouldn't be complete unless the well dressed lady is being escorted by a well dressed man. With this thought in mind, our Freeman photographer tip-

Two Winners Named in Annual Competition Sponsored by Hudson Valley Philharmonic

A 20 year old son of a Brooklyn warehouseman and a 19 year old Fulbright scholar from Japan won first prize Sunday, March 19, in the Second Annual Young Artists Competition sponsored by the Friends of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society.

They were the only two finalists of 14 contestants who performed at auditions Saturday in Skinner Hall, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie. Sharing first place honors were Marcus A. Thompson, a violinist, and Miss Hiroko Yajima, a violinist. Both are students at Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

About 300 persons attended the final competition including many representatives of the orchestra, music schools and faculties.

Claude Montoux, conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra, announced that the first part of the prize was the opportunity for both Mr. Thompson and Miss Yajima to perform as soloists or as a duet with the orchestra next February.

Mrs. Robert D. Slonaker, president of the Friends of the Philharmonic, divided the $500 Friends music scholarship award and runners up awards giving each $400. Later, an unidentified Poughkeepsie man told Claude Montoux that he would add $100 to each scholarship because he thought both finalists were excellent and deserving musicians.

The reunion will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on July 1 and a cocktail party on June 30. Entertainment will be by The Van Henry orchestra.

The program committee has mailed out two questionnaires asking that they be returned as soon as possible so that information may be used for the Program Committee Awards.

Next meeting of the committee charmen is planned April 11 at 7:15 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel. All members are urged to attend the reunion.

YWCA Slimnastics Class Registrations are being taken by the YWCA for their physical education program which will begin April 3 for six weeks. The classes are held at the Brigham School Gym, on O'Neil Street at 7 p. m. The classes, taught by Mrs. Pat Tiano, are designed to whittle away the inches while having a good time doing it.

There is a small fee plus membership in the YWCA.

Planning Reunion

Plans for the 10th reunion of the KHS Class of 1957 were completed at a recent meeting held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Presiding at the meeting was co-chairman Ann Naccarato.

The reunion will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on July 1 and a cocktail party on June 30. Entertainment will be by The Van Henry orchestra.

Mr. Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Whmore Thompson of 91 Boerum Street, Brooklyn. His sister, Lonieta, 22, is the organist at the Abyssinian Baptist Church in New York City, whose minister is Adam Clayton Powell. Mr. Thompson is the minister of music at the Ephesus Church, Lenox, Avenue, New York City, where he directs the youth choir.

Unlike his co-winner, this is the first principal competition he has won. He is a student of Walter Trampler, internationally known violinist.

Miss Yajima is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Seisaku Yajima of Tokyo. Her father was a high school principal and her brother is a pianist. She has performed extensively with orchestras in Japan and is a student here with Ivan Galamian, renowned violinist.

Mr. Thompson and Miss Yajima were both six years old when they began playing string instruments. Mr. Thompson explains how his mother sent him along with his sister while she took piano lessons. Deciding that he too should learn something instead of sitting and waiting for his sister, violin lessons were arranged for Marcus. Since then he has changed only from violin to viola.

The Right Thing To Do

By Elizabeth L. Post

Reader Disagrees With Manner of Addressing Thank-You Notes

Dear Mrs. Post: Seldom do I disagree with your columns, but I must take exception to one of your answers. If a wedding gift arrives with a card engraved "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith," it would certainly seem rude to write only to "Mrs. Smith." I've never had a thank-you note for a wedding present addressed only to me, and would consider it in poor taste.—Mary Van Vleck.

Dear Mrs. Van Vleck: I don't believe you attached enough importance to my statement that the husband should be referred to in the text of the letter. It is not incorrect to address thank-you letters to both man and wife, but they are more generally addressed to the wife alone.

Good Manners Expected— Never Demanded

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not correct for a young man to send his future mother-in-law a card or a little gift of thoughtfulness on Valentine's Day, Mother's Day, etc., especially when he brings a gift or sends a card to her daughter? Perhaps I am wrong in thinking he should.—Mrs. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: One of my favorite sayings, "Good manners should be expected but never demanded," is applicable here. Of course, it would be a thoughtful gesture, and perfectly correct for your future son-in-law to send you a card or small gift on Valentine's Day or Mother's Day. But I wouldn't hold it against him if he didn't remember you last February 14th. I'm sure it was not an intentional slight. Let us hope on Mother's Day he will remember you, as well as his own mother.

Colored Gloves at Formal Dance

Dear Mrs. Post: I was wondering if it is proper to wear colored gloves to a formal dance.—Diane.

Dear Diane: Yes, you may wear colored gloves. Have them dyed to match your dress, or they may go with your evening purse. (C) 1967, Emily Post Institute Inc.

Bard Theatre Will Open Its Spring Season on March 25

Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.—The Bard Theatre of Drama and Dance will open its spring season Saturday, March 25, with a double bill, PLAY by Samuel Beckett and THE LESSON by Eugene Ionesco. The program will run for three evenings, March 25, 26, and 27, at 8:30 p. m.

The season's second offering, DANCE THEATRE ONE 1967 and THE HERNE' EGG by William Butler Yeats will be offered Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 4, 5 and 6, also at 8:30 p. m.

David Crabbs directs PLAY, one of Beckett's most recent works, and typical of the author's intriguing view of human relationships. THE LESSON, which presents Ionesco's satiric view of pedantry, is directed by Joan Elliott.

DANCE THEATRE ONE 1967 presents three works, MASKS and JOY, choreographed by Judith Lipgar, and a PURCELL-BEARDSLEY COLLAG, choreographed by Ana Itelman, Associate Professor of Dance.

Miss Lipgar is the daughter of Mrs. Celia B. Lipgar of 26 Lafayette Avenue, Kingston.

Music for MASKS includes an Indian folk song, and works by Saint-Saens and Art Blakely, and the music for JOY is by Sandy Bull.

Jeffrey Roehlis directs THE HERNE' EGG, a powerful fusion of poetry and drama based on the myths and legends of pagan Ireland.

Admission is free, but reservations must be made in advance. For information call the Bard Theatre Monday through Friday between 3 and 5.

Clay Retains Heavyweight Title on Seventh Round Kayo

Didn't Carry Folley Champ Tells Newsmen

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay has finished off the last of a list of fighters who could be called—with kindness—contenders with his seventh-round knockout of Zora Folley.

Argentina's Oscar Bonavena will be the next sacrificial lamb for the super-fast, invincible champion. The match will be in Tokyo, May 27, unless Clay's legal appeal for a stay from Army induction April 11 is rejected.

Folley, the 34-year-old, No. 1 contender, was knocked out when the supremely confident Clay, or Muhammad Ali as he prefers, decided he wanted to pull the trigger on Wednesday night.

The end came at 1:48 of the seventh round from a chopping right to the jaw. Another right had dropped the bloody-nosed veteran for nine in the fourth round.

Few Highlights

These were the highlights of a bout that became one-sided when Clay decided the time had become ripe to open up in the third round. Before that he danced around the ring, virtually conceding the first two rounds to the plodding, methodical challenger.

Folley was a prohibitive 7-1 long shot for his first shot at the title. What odds against Oscar? 100 to 1?

"There is no one around today who can beat him," said Folley in an interview in the Garden's basement after the fight. "I know, I've fought them all."

"All I remember of the end of the fight was a right — right on the chin. After that I just don't remember."

Didn't Carry Him

Clay heatedly denied, in answer to a question, that he had carried Folley.

"I was not carrying him," he said. "He was a better fighter than Sonny Liston, or Floyd Patterson or Ernie Terrell."

Folley's greatest moment came after he was floored in the fourth round. A left-right combination to the jaw dropped him on his face. He sat up with a startled look at the five-count and was up at nine.

When Clay came after him, Folley fought back like a wounded tiger. Although he may still have been dazed, he instinctively fired back with both hands, and a hard right sent Clay to the ropes.

"He hurt me with that punch," said Clay, superbly fit at 21½ pounds over his 6-foot-3 frame. Folley weighed 202½.

Folley Connects

But in the seventh Folley scored with a good right to the head that brought a roar from the crowd of 13,780. The roar had barely died down when Clay let loose with his finishing right that dropped Folley for the second and last time.

The 6-foot challenger, blood spewing from his nose, fell flat on his stomach. He rolled over slowly at the count of seven, wobbled to his feet on rubbery legs, and then fell back to his knees. Referee Johnny LoBianco waves, his hands. It was all over.

Like him or hate him, Clay has to be rated with the great heavyweight champions. He is the fastest heavyweight ever — "he moves like a lightweight," says former welterweight champion Jackie Fields — probably the best conditioned, and still is maturing and improving.

Record Is 29-0

This was his seventh title defense within a year and his ninth in all. His record is 29-0, including 23 knockouts. Folley, suffering his eighth defeat and sixth knockout loss, as his unbeaten string of 12 was snapped. He has won 74 times.

An all-day snowstorm hurt the gate. The gross receipts, however, of $244,471 broke the Garden fight record of $239,559. National and international television swelled the receipts. Clay collected about $260,000 on his 50 per cent of the net gate and $150,000 from the ancillary rights. Folley earned his largest purse, about $58,000 on 15 per cent of the net and $25,000 for the ancillary.

Warn Football Mentors About Press Dealings

ATLANTA (AP)—A letter of caution will be sent to every major football coach in America as a result of a controversial series written in Sports Illustrated last summer by Alabama Coach Paul Bear Bryant, an NCAA spokesman reported.

Rick Colman, head coach at Princeton who heads the NCAA Ethics Committee, told the Atlanta Constitution by telephone Wednesday night that no punitive action was taken against Bryant "even though we did feel there were some unfortunate statements made in the article."

In the series, Bryant said that in past years some players on his teams were "paid," but that since coming to Alabama in 1958 there has been no violation of the rules.

"If I were a young coach starting out," Bryant wrote, "I might give in, but I'm not going to do it now. I don't have to, and if I had I wouldn't."

"That was the one part that stuck in our craw," Colman said. "We felt a little sick about it. But when you read that series in toto, you cannot conceive of this man advocating cheating or anything approaching it."

Colman said the letter of warning will be sent out shortly to some 2,000 coaches coast-to-coast. It will urge that they "stress the valuable and important aspects of football and urge that they be very careful in dealings with the press."

Hull Brothers Spark Chicago To Ranger Tie

CHICAGO (AP)—The Hulls made the Chicago Black Hawks' offense a family affair Wednesday night in a 3-3 stalemate with the New York Rangers, who grabbed sole possession of second place in the National Hockey League.

The tie gave the Rangers 68 points. The Montreal Canadiens whipped the Maple Leafs 5-3 in Toronto to deadlock the Leafs for third place, each with 67 points.

The Black Hawks are stampeding to their first NHL championship and hold first place by 20 points.

Dennis Hull pushed the Hawks into a 2-0 lead early in the first period. He scored his 20th and 21st goals 32 seconds apart.

Hadfield's second goal at 7:35 of the finale while Chicago's Pat Stapleton was in the penalty box, locked the game at 3-3.

J.C. Tremblay's two successive goals early in the second period opened a 4-1 lead by the Canadiens. Ron Ellis then led a Toronto spurt with two goals.

After the Leafs had pulled up to 4-3, Jean Beliveau's goal at 16:54 of the last period proved the Canadiens' clincher.

Otto Scores 40; 36 for Melnick

Church of Comforter's Ray Otto closed out the YMCA Senior church basketball season with a 40-point barrage against St. Remy Reformed. Comforters won the game 62-25.

John Melnick, high scoring Port Ewen forward, rimmed 36 points as his squad lost to Hurley Reformed, 58-44. Tompkins (27) and Tomson (23) led Hurley.

First Baptist won second place with a 10-2 record. Jewish Community Center captured the regular season title with 11 wins and one defeat.

$465,000 Suit Is Filed on NBA

By Rudy LaRusso

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rudy LaRusso, who was suspended from the National Basketball Association after refusing to participate in a triangle swap last January, is suing the association for $465,000.

LaRusso filed suit Wednesday in federal court charging the NBA with conspiracy and monopoly.

The strapping 30-year-old former Los Angeles Laker forward says that because of the trade and subsequent suspensions he "is, in effect, blacklisted by all of the other teams and is a victim of group boycott."

Freshmen Wrestling Letter for Kissel

ITHACA—Wesley Kissel, Jr. of Olive Bridge has been selected by John Polo, Ithaca College freshman wrestling coach, to receive a jersey number.

The Bomber cubs finished with a 7-6 record, handing nationally ranked Orange Community College its first defeat. Coach Polo said, "This is the strongest group that we have had in three years."

Kissel, co-captain of the team, who wrestled in the 167 pound division, had a 10-2 regular season.

He lives on Krom Road, Olive Bridge, and is enrolled in the School of Health and Physical Education at Ithaca College.

Folley Quickly Puts in Dissent

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, or Muhammad Ali if you prefer, compared the punch that put away Zora Folley Wednesday night with the one that did in Sonny Liston in the first round of their return match at Lewiston, Maine, in May, 1965.

"In a way it was the same punch," said Clay, who dropped the 34-year-old challenger for good at 1:48 of the seventh round.

Then Clay shrugged off suggestions of an anchor punch—the term applied to the blow that took Liston out in the first round of their bout.

"There is no anchor punch," the champion said. "That was just a publicity stunt."

Folley, who seemed to be carrying the fight to Clay before being knocked out, said he remembered getting hit before going down.

"All I remember," Folley said, "was a right — right on the chin. After that, I just don't remember."

Toys With Reporters

Clay toyed with reporters in a joint dressing room press conference in which he shared a raised platform and microphone with Folley.

"What was the knockout punch," one reporter asked. "I don't have a punch," countered Clay, teasing his critics. "Just couple of lucky right hands."

Clay said Folley was one of his better opponents. "He's better than Liston, Floyd Patterson and Ernie Terrell. He hurt me quite a few times to the body."

But I was smart and clever," the champion said. "I fought well," said Folley, a veteran of 18 years in the ring. "I gave it all I had. He was just a better fighter."

Folley did well in the early rounds and at one point, when Clay danced around the ring with his guard down, the champion's manager, Herbert Muhammad, became alarmed.

Folley to Continue

"He said I should quit playing with my hands down," said Clay. "I said I wasn't playing, but just feeling him out. He was slick, tricky and a good boxer."

Folley said he would continue fighting. "I think I can beat everybody around but Clay," he said. Then he added that he didn't think there was any heavyweight around who could take the title away from the champion.

"And I've fought all the contenders," the challenger added. Clay's next fight appears to be with Uncle Sam. He is scheduled for induction into the Army April 11.

"We have an agreement to fight Oscar Bonavena in Tokyo May 27," said Herbert Muhammad. "There are some ifs though."

A reporter asked what the "ifs" were.

"One of them," replied Muhammad, "is if the champ doesn't get drafted."

Help to Launch Soccer Season

The big time soccer season opens in the United States Easter Sunday (March 26) when two of the world's star-studded teams—Roma of Italy and Flamengo of Brazil—clash at Randall's Island Stadium.

A preliminary game featuring the all-star teams of the Southern New York and the New Jersey State Association will start at 1 p. m. The feature game is scheduled for 3 p. m.

Both units will have many international stars in the lineup. The Italian attack will be led by Fabio Enzo, a bruising center forward who is the $100,000 class.

Other stars in the Roma lineup are Spain's Josquin (Gioacchine) Perio, who previously played for Athletic Madrid and Inter Milan, West Germany's Jurgen Schults, formerly with Borussia Dortmund and Paolo Berison, a recent member of Italy's World Cup team.

The Brazilians won a record

12th Rio League championship in 1965 and will be led by the high goal scorer of that season, Cesar Marques Bodnariuc. Also in the lineup will be two Sweden World Cup players, Kurt Kennart Axelsson and Almqvist Gosta.

There are approximately 110 million gas appliances in use in homes in the United States.

Dayton Flyers Still High; Seek NCAA Louisville Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Dayton Flyers are coming to Louisville today intent on winning the NCAA basketball title, but they're trying to take the whole thing in stride.

"It's always been our policy to worry about the game coming up before worrying about the next one," said Dayton's successful coach, Don Donohue, who is in the NCAA playoffs for the third straight year.

Plan No Changes

"We'll play everybody in the tournament the same way we went through the season," he added. "There's not time to change anything anyway."

Dayton and the three other teams competing for the NCAA title, UCLA, North Carolina and Houston, arrive today and will hold hour-long workouts in Freedom Hall, site of this year's tournament.

Dayton is the most surprising entry in the championship field, having advanced over sixth-

PHIL REGAN LAST YEAR LEARNED TO PROSPER IN LATE RELIEF FOR THE DODGERS

Army Swimming Ace Barry Kerry Has Traits Which Make Officers

WEST POINT — Versatility and adaptability are two traits which make for good Army officers. Likewise, they are important in a swimmer, especially when he has ability.

Barry Kerry, an Army sophomore from Bromall, Pa., was a perfect example of what these three traits can do for a team. Although not a national threat in any one event, Kerry is strong in many events and was often the key man in dual meets this year.

During the season in which the Cadets won nine of a dozen meets, Kerry swam in five different events in addition to the free-style relay. He was used most often by Army coach Jack Ryan in the 200-yard individual medley — that grueling race which combines the backstroke, breaststroke, butterfly and free-style — but also saw action at 200 yards in the freestyle, back and breast strokes and at 500 yards in the freestyle. He is also a good fly man, according to Ryan, although he has not raced in that stroke.

Army could usually count on this top sophomore for several points per meet. Twice — against Bucknell and Cornell — he had double victories. Against the Bisons he finished first in the 200 free and back, while against the Big Red he led in the 500 free and the 200 IM.

Was Consistent Scorer

For the season, he scored 634 points, for an average of 5.3 per meet and had at least one first place in every event in which he competed.

Last weekend in the Eastern Seaboard championships at New Haven, Kerry was the fourth-leading scorer for Army which finished third in the team standing behind Yale and North Carolina. Kerry was third in the 400 IM, fifth in the 200 breast, 8th in the 500 free and swam the second leg on the Cadets' 800-yard freestyle relay quartet which placed tenth. In each event Kerry had his best time of the season.

This improvement is part of the reason Ryan is so optimistic about his sophomore swimmer. "Barry is one of the most improved and steady members of our team," said Ryan. "He is really a tough kid and a tremendous asset to the team."

While winning races Kerry has also managed to get himself into the record books. In January he set Cornell pool records in both the 200 IM (2:03.5) and the 500 free (3:10.8) and he shattered the Academy and Princeton's Dillon Pool standards in the 200 IM (2:00.7) in March. In the

Army Swimmers All-East Picks

WEST POINT — Yale's eastern swim champions dominate the 1967 all-star team announced by coaches of the nine teams in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League.

Paced by Don Schollander, who received four spots on the team, the Elis had seven places. Princeton and Army each gained five positions. Schollander was the leading swimmer in the 100, 200 and 500 freestyle events and was also named on Yale's 400-yard freestyle relay team.

Kerry O'Hara of Army was rated first in the 200 yard backstroke. Four other Cadets rated second on the basis of best time: Jay Williams, 200 and 500 freestyle; Barry Kerry, 200 individual medley; John Landgraf, 200 breaststroke.

Easterns he tied the Academy 400 IM mark (4:24.1).

Born Record Breaker

Actually record-setting is nothing new to Kerry. As a plebe (freshman), he set Army pool and plebe records for the 400-yard freestyle (4:04.1), made a new plebe 200-yard breaststroke mark (2:21.6) and swam legs on record setting 200 and 400-yard medley and 400-yard freestyle freshman quartets.

By keeping ready for several events he may hurt his chances for setting new records, but his combination of versatility, adaptability and ability provide the right formula to help the Cadets win.

Next week Kerry will represent the Cadets in the NCAA team meet at Michigan State. He will swim the 200 and 400-yard IM and a leg on the 800-yard freestyle relay squad.

Pony Players Take $2.10 Payoff Slice

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Harness Racing Commission announced Wednesday that the minimum pari-mutual pay-off at harness racing tracks in the state will be $2.10 instead of $2.20.

The commission said the $2.10 minimum is effective immediately. The action is similar to that taken recently by the New York State Racing Commission for thoroughbred racing in the state.

Chamberlain-Too, Too Much

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Their game strategy was obvious with the first play and that was with Wilt going to the basket. At that point we knew what we were in for," Coach Jack McMahon of the Cincinnati Royals said quietly.

What the Royals were in for was a dazzling one-man show as Wilt Chamberlain poured in 37 points to lead Philadelphia to a 123-102 victory that evened the National Basketball Association's best-of-5 Eastern Division playoffs at 1-1 Wednesday night.

Chamberlain scored the 76ers' first basket to tie the score and the Royals never went ahead. Wilt also pulled down 27 rebounds and was credited with 11 assists as the 76ers avenged their series-opening upset in Wednesday's only playoff game.

"Wilt showed why he should be recognized as the greatest player in the history of the game," Coach Alex Hannum said in the 76ers' dressing room.

"We also tried to key in on (Oscar) Robertson a little more tonight and since Wally Jones is smaller we tried to shift other men on him too."

"We've got two tough ball clubs, but I feel Philadelphia is physically stronger than the Royals," said Hannum. "I would like to play them again tomorrow (Thursday) instead of Friday."

Just Didn't Have It

Over in the Royals' dressing room, McMahon said it was not just a matter of strength.

"I was not at all surprised at their going to Wilt," he said. "We knew what to expect. We just didn't play well enough."

"You know, I know and all the rest know that Philadelphia plays zone defense at least partially and the basic adjustment against zone defense is to move the ball. In the final analysis, it was the shooting that killed us."

Statistics bore out McMahon's view. The Royals hit with 40 of 92 shots from the field, while the 76ers connected with 49 of 101 field goal attempts.

Robertson scored 29 points to lead the Royals and Connie Dierking — the star of Tuesday night's game — added 21, plus 17 rebounds. Hal Greer scored 27 for Philadelphia.

Hannum said the 76ers took no special measures to keep Dierking down.

Bob Bondar Paces 92 to 70 Victory

By CHARLES J. TIANO (Freeman Sports Editor)

Where the high powered Hub Dells was something of a bust — unheralded Whitman Electric of Kingston was slightly sensational — in the Hudson Valley basketball tournament at Poughkeepsie.

Sparked by Bob Bondar's brilliant shooting (27 points) and the excellent rebounding of Joe Klonowski and Harry Pratt, Whitman's rolled over Red and Whites of Poughkeepsie, 92-70 last night.

It wasn't even that close. For most of the second half and early in the fourth period the locals led by as much as 30 points.

Trailing 20-21 at the quarter, the locals exploded for a 21-5 second period margin, then broke the game wide open with a 32-point third quarter.

Hits 16 in Half

Bondar accumulated 16 points in the first half and nine in the third period. Bob Itzla contributed 14 and Chick Boice hit 11.

Gary McGary, Beacon High school ace, lead the losers with 17 points and Frank Leneghan had 14.

When Whitman's held their 30-point edge in the fourth quarter, Coach Jim Massa cleared the bench and Red-Whites came on for 12 straight points.

Whitman's big test comes next Monday against the crack Stewart AFB squad of Newburgh.

In a bizarre companion game, Perkin-Elmer of Danbury edged Mastromarino Lumber of Rockland county 68-65. Half of the Perkin-Elmer squad never got to the tournament because of an auto accident and the Nutmeggers played the entire fourth period with only four men.

Fight to Keep Baseball in KC

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A number of Kansas City businesses are pledging up to $10,000 worth of advertising in order to keep the Athletics' major league baseball team here.

"If the team has good attendance, reasonable ticket sales and good broadcasting revenue," Kansas City Mayor Irlus Davis said, "then we will be in a good position to negotiate to keep the franchise here next year."

The A's contract with the city expires at the end of this season. In the past, the fiery A's owner, Charles Finley, has tried to move the club to various other cities, including Louisville, Oakland and Seattle.

Two Ups-Two Home Runs

Look Out, AL Hurlers, Frank's Got The Range

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Frankly speaking they were grand sights for Baltimore fans

— those two balls soaring over the fence at Sarasota, Fla.

They were the first home runs of the exhibition season for Frank Robinson, and they came on consecutive times at bat Wednesday in the Orioles' 5-4, 10-inning victory over Chicago. Robinson, who has been quietly rounding into shape since underdoing knee surgery during the off season, only played four innings, but it was long enough to give opposing American League pitchers an early start toward a good case of the jitters.

Chicago tied the game at 4-4 on rookie Bill Voss' two-run single in the eighth, and then Baltimore won it on two wild pitches by Danny Lazar and Dave Johnson's single.

Two players St. Louis is counting heavily on had a big day in the Cardinal's 7-2 victory over the New York Mets at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Maris On Spree

Roger Maris got three singles and a double and scored four times, and Orlando Cepeda collected a single, double and two-run homer. Maris had collected only four hits in 10 previous exhibition games. Ron Swoboda hit a two-run homer for the Mets.

In other games, Cincinnati outslugged Philadelphia 10-6, Houston edged Atlanta 4-3, Pittsburgh nipped Kansas City 2-1. Boston downed the New York Yankees 5-2, Washington topped Detroit 6-4, Los Angeles trounced Minnesota 15-2, California defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 and Cleveland walloped San Francisco 14-5.

Vada Pinson and Lee May pined Cincinnati's 16-hit attack at Tampa, Fla., with home runs. Philadelphia managed only three hits — doubles by Tony Gonzalez and Grant Jackson and Johnny Callison's homer.

Meanwhile, at the Phillies' camp at Clearwater, Fla., owner-manager Gene Mauch's contract has been extended through 1968.

Norm Miller's two-out, two-strike homer in the last of the ninth lifted Houston past Atlanta at Cocoa, Fla. John Hoffman hit a two-run homer for Atlanta.

Bill Mazeroski singled home both Pittsburgh runs, the second one in the top of the ninth, in the Pirates' victory over Kansas City. The A's scored off Dennis Ribant, who pitched the first five innings. Jim Shellenback worked the last four for the Pirates.

Bouton Rapped

Jim Bouton was touched for two-run homers by Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in the third inning in Boston's defeat of the Yankees at Winter Haven, Fla. Mickey Mantle left the game in the third inning with a slight pull of the left hamstring muscle.

Los Angeles cut loose for 19 hits in its rout of Minnesota at Vero Beach, Fla. Ron Fairly led the way with a single and triple for three RBIs. Wes Parker, Jim Hickman and Jeff Torborg each batted in two runs.

At Palm Springs, Calif., Paul Schall and Jim Fregosi hit bases-empty homers in the first inning off the Cubs Ferguson Jenkins. Jay Johnstone singled home what proved to be the Angels' winning run in the sixth inning.

Cleveland used 15 hits and seven San Francisco errors to blast the Giants at Phoenix, Ariz. Rocky Colavito drove in three runs, including two with a homer, for the Indians.

Bialosuknia, Walker Leaders Of Yankee Stars

BOSTON (AP) — All-America Jimmy Walker of Providence and sharp-shooting Wes Bialosuknia of Connecticut were runaway choices in dominating the 1967 all-New England major college basketball team announced today by the Associated Press.

Walker who led the nation with a 30-point average, was named for top honors for the third straight year, while Bialosuknia, all-New England as a sophomore, moved back up after being edged for a first team berth in 1966.

Willie Wolters, a 6-foot-8 muscled man for Boston College, was voted all-New England for a second straight year after helping the Eagles to the finals of the NCAA Eastern regional playoffs.

Joining Walker, Bialosuknia and Wolters were Boston College junior Steve Adelman and Ed Siudut, a 6-foot-7 sensation as a Holy Cross sophomore.

Brewer Defends At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Defending champion Gay Brewer leads a field of 14 pros into the $75,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament today on the 6,419-yard, par-72 Pensacola Country Club course.

Top money in the 72-hole tournament is $15,000.

Tour tournament winners for 1967 in the field are two-time winner Julius Boros, Phoenix Open and Citrus Open, Bob Goalby, San Diego Open, Jack Nicklaus, Bing Crosby National, Dan Sikes, Jacksonville Open and Doug Sanders, Doral Open.

Sanders is returning to the scene of the tournament in which he blew his chances last year of becoming the first repeat Pensacola winner.

The Cedarhurst, Ga., native was disqualified after 36-holes last year for failure to sign his score card. At the time, Sanders had shaved 14 strokes off par for a 130 and a four-stroke lead over Brewer.

GOP in Near Sweep Of Coxsackie Village

Russell Sutton Jr., a Republican, won election as mayor by 632 votes against the 351 votes polled by his Democratic opponent William DeFrate.

In Athens, however, Democrat Henry Coon won reelection as mayor over GOP candidate Anton Remy by a 38-vote majority. In the trustee race, Athens split down the middle, electing Republican Harold Hallenbeck and Democrat Anthony Scott. Scott was seeking reelection to the post.

Coxsackie's Republican landslide swept Joan Parslow into a trusteeship in that village by a 614-vote total. Her opponent, Democrat David Tyler, received 331 votes. The losing Republican candidate in a trusteeship was James Misuraca.

According to political authorities, Mrs. Parslow, wife of Greene County Board of Supervisors Clerk William D. Parslow, is the first woman ever elected to a trusteeship in Greene County.

Try to Save Dolphin

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A touch and go effort to save the life of a rare dolphin is being waged by officials of an oceanarium at San Diego State College.

The dolphin is reported to be the first of the rare Grampus Griseus, or Risso's dolphin, to be captured in the eastern Pacific. The 11-foot-long mammal weighs 850 pounds.

It was rescued Tuesday from a nearby beach which authorities said the animal probably approached to die of an intestinal disorder.

Dr. David W. Kenney of the Sea World Oceanarium said he knows of only one other such dolphin in captivity.

Mancini Problem: Composer Trying To Avoid Music Imitating Self

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Composer Henry Mancini finds himself faced with a unique problem: how to avoid imitating himself.

Memorable, Stylish
The three-time oscar-winner (score of "Breakfast at Tiffany's"; songs "Moon River," "Days of Wine and Roses") has been engaged lately in scoring "Peter Gunn", the big-screen sequel to the television series that ran on NBC several seasons ago. Any follower of the pop music scene will remember the thumping rhythms of the "Peter Gunn" music.

That's Mancini's problem. The music of "Peter Gunn" was not only memorable; it set the style for scoring of soviet-detective adventures. Thus Gunn became the musical parent to a host of scores for films of the James Bond-Derek Flint-Matt Helm genre.

"I can't go back and do the same score that I did for the TV series in 1959-60," complains Mancini. "That has become almost a caricature nowadays. So, except for the theme music and the song called 'Dreamsville,' I've been forced to concoct a brand-new score."

That doesn't seem too difficult for Mancini, the quiet-spoken, high-domed musical wizard from Cleveland, Ohio. Since scoring his initial success with "Peter Gunn," he has managed to knock out one original, non-clone score after another, ranging from "Hawaii" and "Pink Panther" to "Dear Heart" and "The Great Race."

Mancini is a product of the big-studio era. During six years at Universal he contributed to the scores of 100 films, including Abbott and Costello comedies, Ma and Pa Kettle films, Frankenstein, etc.

Keeps at All Three
Nowadays Mancini manages to keep three careers in the air at once. He scores an average of three pictures a year, including all of Blake Edwards' and most of Audrey Hepburn's upcoming.

"Two for the Road," "Wait Until Dark," He maintains several music firms to merchandise his compositions. And he plays 30-40 concerts a year—he leaves soon to appear with Andy Williams in Japan.

"All three activities dovetail into each other," he remarked. "The movies help the concerts, and so forth. But everything stems from the written material."

Estimated annual gross from the Mancini enterprises: $750,000.

Mancini maintains a tower office at Sunset and Vine, but he does his composing at home generally from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. He starts a project by seeing the finished film six or eight times then begins his scoring. No deadline artist, he generally finishes his work four or five days before it is needed.

Masterpiece of Old World Charm
Close your eyes - picture yourself setting in this lovely Dutch Colonial. The door bell rings, you open the door and invite your guests into your gracious formal entry. They have come to see your beautiful home which is the envy of many. After hanging their coats in one of the many large closets, you lead them to your cozy den loaded with bookcases and close the door. The large country kitchen with solid cherry cabinets, dishwasher, etc. Next they are captivated by the formal dining room, beamed ceilings, black hardware, and each room has a door to the screened porch overlooking a lovely landscaped acre of land. When you invite them upstairs they behold 4 large bedrooms, and 2 baths. In the other things you show your guests and I would like to show them to you. I'm sure you will say "I WISH THIS WERE OUR HOME". It's only $45,000. By appt only.

Denies Johnson Wiretap Stand As RFK Rebuke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark denies a Republican congressman's charge that President Johnson's strong stand against wiretapping grew from a desire to deal "a rather strong rebuke" to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The exchange between Clark and Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., came late Wednesday as the attorney general wound up three days of testimony before a House Judiciary subcommittee considering various parts of Johnson's anticrime program.

McClory, who has been the subcommittee's most vehement opponent of administration bills aimed at wiretapping, recalled that Kennedy, while attorney general in 1962, supported a bill to allow wiretapping against a broad range of crimes.

McClory noted the President's strong stand against wiretapping came just after a controversy between Kennedy and Federal Bureau of Investigation Director J. Edgar Hoover over authorization of wiretapping by the FBI.

Is it not correct, McClory asked Clark, that the "President's attitude with regard to Sen. Kennedy's advocacy of President's position?"

"I think I know" replied Clark, who was acting attorney general at the time. He said Johnson always has been "deeply opposed to wiretapping."

Fulbright Due For Millbrook Talk April 5

Senator J. William Fulbright, outspoken critic of the present administration and founder of the exchange scholarships which bear his name, will speak April 5 at Bennett College in Millbrook, Dutchess County.

Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat, is chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and a member of the Senate Finance Committee and Joint Economic Committee. He has been a U.S. Senator since 1944 and is best known for sponsoring a resolution of censure against the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, head of the famed McCarthy hearings in the early 1950s.

Boycott in 8th Day

MAVSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A boycott of the Twin Cities Rescue Mission by 40 transients went into its eighth day today.

They are protesting mandatory attendance at interdenominational religious services which generally last two hours.

A statement approved unanimously by the mission's board of directors Wednesday night affirmed the requirement: No worship, no free meal or lodging.

"The primary purpose of the mission is not to feed, bathe, clothe or sleep the men, but to save souls," it said.

Charge Drunk Driving In Saugerties Mishap

A two-car collision on Route 32 about one mile north of the intersection of that highway and Route 212, Town of Saugerties, resulted in a summons for Salustiano Berzal, 65, of 69 Main Street, Saugerties.

Kingston State Police said Trooper Richard Dempsey investigated the accident which occurred about 5:30 p. m. Wednesday and involved cars driven by Berzal and Julius Lamanev, 59, of Cairo.

Berzal was charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. The summons is returnable on April 5.

According to Trooper Dempsey's report, Berzal was driving south and allegedly crossed the highway and was in collision with Lamanev's car which was traveling south on Route 32. No injuries were reported.

Defects to Cambodia

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam reported today that a South Vietnamese air force major flew to Cambodia in a small plane March 19 and asked for political asylum.

The Communist Vietnam news agency said Mai, Neo Tan Dieu, 37, landed a Cessna L19 plane at Veangong Airport in Kompong Cham Province. The report said Neo and the plane were brought to Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, Wednesday.

School Ring Rigging

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three companies that dominate the market in school class rings in the United States have been indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged rigging of prices.

The indictment, handed down in Washington Wednesday, charges the firms with agreeing to set their prices so that there were immaterial differences so they could be kept artificially high.

Snowstorm Slacks Off To Flurries

A raging spring snowstorm in the Northeast slacked off to flurries today while other forms of violent weather battered the Pacific Coast and Southern Plains.

The snowstorm left up to a foot of snow in parts of the Northeast, with New York City receiving 10 inches.

Wind-driven rains swept inland from the Pacific Coast and combined with snow in the high mountain ranges.

Open High Tor Park April 1

NEW CITY, N.Y. (AP) — The 500-acre High Tor State Park will open April 1, and plans call for the razing of Huntington House, it was announced today.

The fate of the $1 million stone mansion has been the subject of dispute for more than a year. Some local groups wanted it converted to a museum.

The 38-year-old house was given to the Palisades Interstate Park Commission, by Archer Huntington and was used briefly during World War II as a Navy rest home.

In January 1966, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller halted the destruction of the house by executive order after a group of local women picketed the place.

The new decision to demolish the structure was announced after a meeting of the park commission, the Rockland County Board of Supervisors, and local groups interested in the museum.

The park commission said it could not afford to convert and maintain the museum and local interests had made no offer to do so.
